Indict Kerner, Others

Otto Kerner, immediate past governor of Illinois and a U. S. appeals judge in Chicago for the past three years, was one of five men indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury. Only the fourth federal judge ever indicted, he will leave the bench temporarily, pending his trial.

OTTO KERNER

Kerner is charged with evading $84,129 in federal income taxes and making false statements to an Internal Revenue Service agent.

The counts against the 63-year-old official are bribery, mail fraud, tax evasion, perjury and conspiracy, all in connection with allegedly illegal race track stock transactions while he was governor during the 1960s.

He is the second prominent Illinois Democrat to be placed under suspicion within a 12-month span. A year ago, it was disclosed that the late Secretary of State Paul Simon had received unexplained funds exceeding $800,000 in shoe boxes.

Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon, the party's slate-maker's choice to run for governor in 1972 against Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, a Republican, said yesterday he doubts that the indictment of Kerner will have much impact on the Simon campaign.

Noting that the present Illinois secretary of state, Republican John Lewin, also has been criticized for once owning race track stock, Simon said many members of both parties have been associated with horse racing interests.

"I've disclosed my income publicly during the entire time I have served in public office and also have had all of my staff members reveal their income," Simon said in stressing that he is honest and will remain so.

Daniel Walker, Simon's primary election opponent, said former Gov. Kerner's reputation also was good before he became governor. Walker stressed that Simon currently is cooperating with — rather than seeking to dismantle — the Chicago political organization which originally backed Kerner to run for state office.

Indicted with Kerner yesterday were Theodore J. Isaacs, 61, Glenview, Illinois revenue director in 1961-63; William S. Miller, 70, Ottawa, Illinois racing board chairman in 1961-67; Joseph Knight, 60, Dow, state director of financial institutions in 1962-68; and M. J. Faith McIntire, 38, Chicago, Miller's former personal secretary and a former business associate.

The indictment says the alleged conspiracy started in 1961, the first year of Kerner's administration, and continued to the present.

It is contended that interstate mail was used to distribute bribery proceeds and to defraud the state and its residents of (Continued on page 10, col. 4)

7 Called Today In Investigation

Seven persons were to appear before the grand jury today to testify to alleged activities in Ponton Beach and Nameoki Township.

Among those subpoenaed were Louis Whitsell, supervisor of Nameoki Township, who was to make his second appearance before the jury.

Others subpoenaed were: Mrs. Lillian Simon, Democratic precinct One committee woman for Nameoki Township, her second appearance; Mrs. Paul Luchini, a township social worker and wife of Ponton Beach volunteer patrolman Bill Luchini; Loren Madison, village trustee; Shirley Gaudette, a secretary for Nameoki Township; Jack Patrick, owner of a mobile home sales lot; and Bob Johnson.

The Madison County Mental Health (Law 708) Board and Quad-City Mental Health Center Board are expected to confer at 2:30 tonight at the Granite City clinic on staff cutbacks necessitated by the 708 Board's decision limiting clinic funds.

An effort to allocate additional funds was tabled 3-1 by the 708 Board Tuesday night, blocking $20,000 for the Quad-City Center and $18,490 for the Alton clinic.

Tree of Lights Fund at 65%

Contributions to the Salvation Army "Tree of Lights" campaign to provide Christmas baskets, food, clothing and toys for needy Quad-City families has reached $6,500, or slightly more than 65% of the $10,000 goal.

Donations received to date at the Salvation Army office, 1229 Nineteenth St., have turned on 265 lights on the symbolic Christmas tree in Memorial Park, across from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Special Nameoki Meeting

The Nameoki town board will hold a special meeting at 9 a.m. Saturday to interview applicants for appointment to three trusteeships of the Long Lake Fire Association. The appointments will be made to fill vacancies. Eight persons have applied for the posts.

Raffle Aids Campaign

A "bushel of booze" was raffled off Monday night by the Truth and Action Party of Nameoki Township to aid the party's 1972 candidates in obtaining campaign funds, members of the party told the Press-Record yesterday.

A ticket sold at $1 is pictured above.

Supervisor Louis Whitsell, one of those expected to be aided, said he had not taken a direct part in the fundraising but that the practice may be preferable to methods used by certain other political organizations.

Whitsell and Mike Ropac, party chairman, said Truth and Action has made it a point to raise funds through dances and similar projects with the specific purpose of avoiding unsavory entanglements. Solicitation of campaign funds from businesses and others who might wish to influence governmental actions has been avoided, they stressed.

The raffle was reported Wednesday by Nameoki Township Collector Edgar Patrick. He said he plans to oppose Whitsell for a position on the Madison County Board of Supervisors but does not want to compete financially with such devices as raffles.

Commenting that he feels Whitsell has ignored the public trust, Patrick said, "His oath of office to uphold the law apparently applies to everyone other than himself."

The Truth and Action Party has not taken a stand on current investigations of the village of Ponton Beach being operated, but Whitsell has cooperated with those who asked for the Madison County Grand Jury to study the village.

More than two dozen witnesses have been questioned by Patrick is believed to be analyzed politically with Village President Thomas A. Staloff.

Construction of New School Will Proceed

Due to the urgency of its construction work on the new Granite City High School will continue without interruption while efforts are being made to resolve area drainage problems that threatened several weeks ago to delay the project, it was disclosed Monday night at a meeting of the Nameoki Town Board.

The township officials were formed in a letter from the Granite City Board of Education that problems involving drainage plans for the high school project — which caused the East Side Levee and Sanitary District to withhold issuance of a building permit — were considered in a meeting of school, township and levee district officials and ended in conclusion that construction of the high school would have no direct effect on Doherty Slough.

But, the communication adding, the group of officials attending the meeting also agreed that there is a stormwater drainage problem "in this entire area" resulting not from the high school project alone, but a combination of building factors including drainage from Route 202 and a potential increase in the highway runoff when Route 202 is expanded into a four-lane highway.

Other Conclusions

Other conclusions reached at the session agreed that the stormwater drainage from a new high school area as shown by the construction plans will follow its natural flow eastward, although with a faster runoff, the letter said.

"The main concern," the town board was told, "is that as the highway is completed (Route 202), plus the school site, plus any new construction that may take place, a problem will be created in that the outlets for Long Lake are insufficient to carry the water out fast enough to prevent flooding in several areas of Nameoki township."

The letter added: "The school district will utilize the storm drainage system of Highway 203 for the discharge of some of its stormwater. The state drainage system will drain into Long Lake from a point near Maryville Road. The drainage system from this point south will carry the water into Nameoki Ditch."

"It was the opinion of the Nameoki township representatives and the levee district representatives that if the highway department could provide a larger outlet for Long Lake at Highway 162, and if the Alton

Layoffs, New Court Orders

More than 100 salaried employees of the Casting Division of General Steel Industries will be laid off in early January if the strike by United Steelworkers Union Local 1022 continues through December. GSI officials announced today.

The proposed layoffs comprise more than half of the salaried workers employed at the plant since the strike of approximately 800 members of the work force began Nov. 20.

Three Injured in Four-Vehicle Crash

Three persons were injured, one was arrested, four cars were damaged and a motorcycle was demolished in two separate accidents occurring in the same location within a matter of a few hours Monday night.

The first accident—involving three autos and a motorcycle—occurred at 9:10 p.m. at railroad tracks at 14th and State streets in Madison. Police said a motorcyclist and two autos were waiting for a train to pass when a third car failed to stop, causing a chain reaction collision that damaged all four vehicles.

Mitchell Sykes, 8, and Tammie DeClue, 10, passengers in a car driven by Darlene E. Sykes, 2809 Roosevelt Ave., and Donald W. Davis, 20, of 1417 Third St., Madison, were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where they were treated for minor injuries, x-rayed and released.

The other vehicle waiting for the train was driven by Richard C. Odum, 2014 Missouri Ave., Charles J. Johnson, 2091 Lincoln Ave., driver of the third car, was charged with careless driving, Madison police said.

At 11:30 p.m., a car driven by Edmund E. Higgins, 2044 Madison Ave., was southbound on State Street when his car crashed into the second car behind the engine of a train which was westbound. Engineer of the Illinois Terminal engine was A. L. Brinkley of Bunker Hill, Ill.

Girl, 17, Struck By Hit-Run Motorist

Miss Donna Davis, 17, of 2307 Logan Ave., was injured when she was struck by a car at 26th and Adams streets at 5:15 p.m. Monday. The motorist left the scene.

Miss Davis said she was walking west on 26th Street when the southbound auto stopped for a stop sign on Adams Street and the driver motioned her to cross. As she walked in front of the car, it started forward, striking her in the right side, she said.

She was knocked to the ground by the impact. The motorist continued south. She described the driver as a man in his mid-30's and the car as a white 1967 auto with a vinyl top.

Miss Davis was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for contusions to both knees and pain to her right leg. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Minimum Staff Retained

The announcement added: A minimum number of supervisory employees have been retained to provide only the necessary plant protective service.

Airport, Rapid Transit Projects Linked, Both Gain Faster Momentum

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois late Monday announced a $106,350,000 program of immediate and long-range improvements and new construction for mass transit here.

The governor termed the plan "one of the most innovative and significant programs of mass transportation anywhere in the country."

In a joint news conference with St. Louis Mayor Alfonso J. Cervantes, Ogilvie listed three "firm financial commitments" by Illinois for the plan: $550,000, to be matched by $1.1 million in federal funds, to put 40 new air-conditioned buses into operation in the Bi-State Transit System within six months.

$750,000, to be matched by $1.5 million in federal funds, for a three-year program to build three new park-and-ride facilities, 75 shelters for bus passengers and other improvements in the 111-mile metropolitan area.

$750,000, to be matched by $1.5 million in federal funds, for planning the Illinois portion of the proposed $6-mile rapid transit system for the greater St. Louis area.

$8 million, to be matched by $8 million in federal funds, to begin Phase I construction on the rapid transit link between St. Louis and East St. Louis.

$25,000, to be matched by $50,000 in federal funds, for planning of the rapid transit route from downtown St. Louis to the planned St. Louis regional airport near Columbia, Ill.

The study will include an analysis of potential usage of the St. Louis Union Station as the downtown terminal. Illinois state funds of $20 million and federal funds of $60 million to make a $80 million program for construction of the proposed rapid transit system over the next 10 years.

Gov. Ogilvie told the news conference:

"I want to emphasize strongly that I am not expressing today my hopes or dreams. I am making firm commitments of real and available funds. They do not require new sources of revenue nor further approvals, either from the Illinois General Assembly or the Illinois electorate."

"These commitments from the state of Illinois and the local communities of the Illinois part of the St. Louis area are the irrefutable evidence of our faith in the future."

Rain and Wind Storms Plague Area This Week

Winds whipping gusts up to 52 miles per hour swept through the Quad-City area Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning on the heels of a week-end of heavy rains which flooded streets and basements and revived a series of controversies over the adequacy of the city's stormwater facilities.

Both the winds and the rains accounted for scattered damages throughout the area. High winds Wednesday morning tore out awnings, knocked down tree limbs and caused power outages in some sections where power lines were blown down. But the continuing rains which did not subside until yesterday afternoon for the most part, not only in flooded streets and basements but in shattered masonry over recurring flooding in the northeast section of the city.

Streets were flooded in the Lynch-Sara-Vesce Avenue section, as well as in the Doherty Slough area which has been the center of a mounting controversy over continued residential and commercial construction that has obstructed natural drainage channels and caused increased stormwater runoff.

Rainfall totaling 2.99 inches last weekend was followed by another .77 of an inch of rain on Tuesday and an additional 1.57 inches recorded Wednesday morning on the Chain of Rocks rain gauges, bringing to 5.89 inches the total fall for the month so far. With half of the month still to go, the December rainfall already is well above the heaviest fall of any other month this year, which was registered in May at 4.15 inches.

Streets Flooded

Flooding of Lynch Avenue, Vesce Avenue, Sara Street and other sections of the city's northeastern area brought bitter protests from residents. Lester "Bud" Beyer, 2302 Lynch Ave., said he and other residents along Lynch Avenue plan to attend Monday night's meeting of the city council to protest drainage conditions.

Beyer said he called Mayor Donald D. Partney, Alderman Thomas J. Beyer and Street Superintendent Lionel Portell to survey the area with him and then requested he be given time to speak to the council Monday night.

He particularly objected to the use of more than $600,000 recovered by the city as "flood dis-

Two Missouri political leaders locked horns yesterday as the board of directors of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council voted to approve an Illinois site for the proposed new major St. Louis bi-state airport.

St. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervantes, a proponent of the Columbia-Waterloo site in Illinois, and Lawrence K. Roos, supervisor of St. Louis County and leading opponent of the site, clashed during the meeting.

The site was approved by a vote of 13 to 7 with one abstention.

The council's vote placed its stamp of approval on a request for $8.4 million in federal aid for the cost of acquiring land for the airport. The approved request will be sent to the Federal Aviation Administration for final approval.

Despite the defeat, Roos pledged that he will not give up in his effort to block the Illinois airport.

He said sites at Smartt Field and Dardene in St. Charles County would be superior to the Illinois location and promised "every effort" to make that clear to the FAA before funds for the Columbia-Waterloo site are approved.

Cities Statistics

During the debate on the council's approval, Roos presented statistics which he said proves that road expansions to the new airport would be "more costly than Missouri could tolerate."

He said the Interbelt Expressway would have to be expanded to six lanes and would have to cross the Mississippi River at a cost of $200 million. He states Route 141 would have to be expanded to four lanes to the airport with an $80 million tab and eventually Route 340 would have to be expanded to four lanes and extended to the Illinois airport at a $300 million cost.

In responding to Roos' criticisms, Joseph L. Badaracco, president of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen, said that with a Missouri location for the airport, the state not only would have to expand roads to the facility but also would have to pay for the airport.

Favors Illinois

"I thought of 1,000 good reasons one year ago why the airport should be in Illinois and they all still apply today," Badaracco stated.

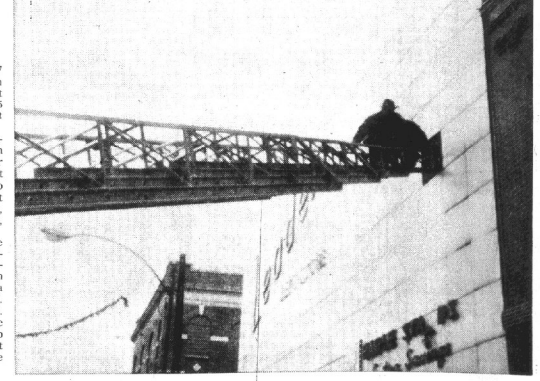

"At Columbia-Waterloo there

'Singing Tree' Premieres Sunday Night

A massive cone-shaped structure is under construction this week in a vacant parking area across from the main fire station, located in the 2300 block of Madison Avenue.

In its completed state, the cone-shaped structure will emerge as the third annual "Singing Christmas Tree" to be presented by the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue.

The singing tree's initial presentation will take place at 8:15 p.m. Sunday. Two performances will be given nightly, at 7 and 8 o'clock, on the successive four evenings.

The tree is comprised of a series of platforms decorated with pine boughs, Christmas lights and topped with a 10-foot pine tree which adds to the authentic character of the tall pyramid.

A total of 60 white-robed singers will decorate the tree sharing Christmas greetings and traditional carols with members of the community.

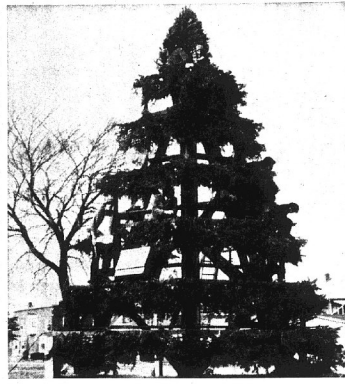

Passersby may either stand and listen to the musical presentation or drive into an adjacent parking area where space is available for up to 100 cars.

The first performance of the singing tree at 8:15 p.m. Sunday will follow the musical cantata, "Rejoice," by Otis Skilling, which will be presented in the St. Louis area by the Sanctus Choir at the First Assembly of God at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dan Albrecht, music director at the church, said the public is invited to attend the cantata which for the first time will include settings and costumes.

Immediately after the cantata, choir members will join others on the singing Christmas tree.

The director said the outdoor choral performances are arranged as "First Assembly's way of wishing the people of our community a Merry Christmas, and to communicate the significance of the Christmas season."

ALMOST READY. Finishing touches are made to a huge 'Singing Christmas Tree,' a Yuletide tradition of the First Assembly of God Church. Nightly performances will be presented by a 60-member choir, starting Sunday, at the tree site across from the main fire station in the 2300 block of Madison Avenue.

Mrs. Mildred Reese was the hostess and served refreshments to six members.

Pinatas Highlight Yule Party

More than 150 youngsters and 75 adults enjoyed the Mexican Holiday Commission's annual Christmas party held this week at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall in Venice.

Entertainment was provided by J. W. Apperson, a magician, who performed feats of skill using live rabbits and other acrobats.

Breaking the traditional pinatas for different age groups provided a high spot of the party. The pinatas resembling Yuletide ornaments made by Miss Teresa Ortiz were filled with candies and pennies.

Santa Claus visited and presented gifts to the children, and a potluck dinner was served buffet style.

Mrs. Barbara Valencia served as party chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ruby Ybarra, Mrs. Ofelia Antof, Mrs. Lennie Simpson, Mrs. Mary Brick and Mrs. Dorothy Robles.

67 Attend Eagle Auxiliary Party

The annual Christmas dinner was served to 67 members of the Eagles Auxiliary on Tuesday evening at the Aerie 1126 Home on Madison Avenue.

The tables were elaborately decorated with miniature Santas, lighted holiday candles and Christmas floral arrangements, all prepared by Mrs. Bernice Joannigmeier.

GCHS Wrestlers Earn 160th Win by Downing Roxana 37-6

The Granite City High School wrestlers earned their 160th consecutive victory in dual meets over Southern Illinois teams by downing Roxana 37-6 here Tuesday evening.

Under Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt's guidance, the Warriors have remained undefeated by area teams for a number of seasons and this year's squad has the ability to extend that record to 169 consecutive wins or more before the season closes.

Leading the Warrior charge was Gary Loy (105 pounds), the only undefeated, untied wrestler on the squad. He extended his season record to 10 consecutive wins by pinning his Roxana opponent in 1:53 Tuesday.

Johnson Undefeated
Another wrestler who is undefeated is Kerry Johnson (119), who earned a 6-3 victory for his ninth win. He has been tied one time this season.

Heavyweight Craig Stephens leads the squad in the number of pins after earning his sixth in 1:53 at the match.

Other match winners were Phil Lipinski (98), who won on a 9-3 decision; John Niebur (112), 6-0; Dennis Ragan (126), 10-2; Doug Wilson (138), 23-4; Charlie Mayfield (145), 4-2;

Rich Paschedag (155), 10-8; and Tom Kalert (185), 10-2.

Andy Miosky (167) dropped his match on a 4-0 decision and Scott Mangan (132) lost 6-4 in his first time in varsity competition.

The junior varsity Warriors also were successful on the mats against Roxana, earning a 36-18 victory.

John Hankins (145), Brian Willis (105) and Fred Trokey (heavyweight) earned pins in 2:30, 3:51 and 4:45. Decision winners were Rudy Pyle (98), Ron Martin (112), Don Heath (118), Dave Ruebhausen (138), and Ken Nolan (155).

Trojans were alive here Tuesday in the first quarter against Belleville East, but the 13-13 tie later evaporated. Ed Chandler, high point man with 24, sinks an MHS field goal. Coming up fast on the right is Trojan Terrance Young (35).

Trojan Five Leads at Half But Bows to Lancers 75-49

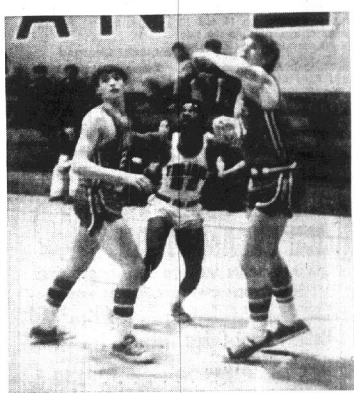

The Madison High basketball Trojans played a great first half at home Tuesday night against Belleville East, but the bubble burst and a halftime lead of 25-24 turned into a final loss of 75-49.

The first quarter had ended 13-13 as the Trojans put up a battle against much taller Belleville, and the third-period score showed a 48-41 Lancer lead.

The final quarter saw a complete breakdown in defense, offense and orderly play for MHS as Belleville racked up 27 points to Madison's eight.

"During the second half our defense broke down and East got the ball inside and close to the bucket," Trojan Coach Larry Graham related.

"In the last six minutes of the game, everything just broke down. We only hit 35% for the entire game from the floor and against Central we had hit 29%. You can't win when you're not hitting. Belleville East killed us on the backboards, taking 37 rebounds while we managed 20."

BELLEVILLE EAST PLAYERS look dismayed as Trojan Larry Evans (20) sinks a field goal here Tuesday evening. Madison led at the half 25-24 but later ran out of steam, losing 75-49.

Attempt to Pick Up Boy in West Granite

An attempted abduction of an 11-year-old West Granite boy was reported to police by Warren Collins, principal of Logan School, at 11:55 a.m. Wednesday.

The administrator said the boy was walking south on Missouri Avenue, near 25th Street, when three men in a red sports car, heading north on Missouri, stopped and asked the youngster if he wanted a ride home.

The boy replied "no" and answered the same way when asked directions to Alton. As one man started to alight from the vehicle the child ran home. He told a police officer that he had seen the car on another occasion around the same area.

MORE ABOUT Rain and Wind

"aster relief" in 1969 for repair of sewer breaks rather than for improvement of drainage facilities "to save the people's property."

At the same time, residents of the Doherty Slough area, where the water level in Doherty Slough again rose to threatening heights, said they were "fed up" with "stalling tactics" in a promised installation of a new drainage facility. Mrs. Helen Hawkins, who has led a fight of Angela Drive residents to secure the improvement, said she called officials of the Illinois Department of Conservation and the Illinois Division of Waterways and set up a local area meeting for 10 a.m. on Jan. 12 in the levee district offices in Granite City.

Report Wind Damage
The high winds Wednesday morning, which followed 1.57 inches of rain, were responsible for damage to buildings, cars, trees and Christmas decorations in the downtown area.

One large tile was blown from the east side of the Leader-Department store at 19th and State Streets. Firemen were called Wednesday to secure several other building tiles which had been loosened by the high winds and threatened to fall.

A part of the canopy at Factory Outlet Shoes, 1304 Nineteenth St., was torn loose from the wall and the sign on the front of the store was loosened.

The winds shattered a window in front of the new Factory Outlet Store on the southeast corner of 19th Street and Delmar Avenue. The building is being re-modeled in preparation for opening.

Two Cars Damaged
A large tree in the front of the home of Virgil Parker, 3005 East 23rd St., was toppled in the storm and fell on two cars owned by Parker, causing extensive damage.

The job of demolishing a building which was being razed at 1812 State St. was completed by the winds which toppled the front wall onto the sidewalk. Work crews cleared the rubble away early Wednesday.

A window at 1807 Edison Ave. was ripped from the frame and blown into the street, and a tree limb fell onto Madison Avenue near 25th Street, blocking northbound traffic.

Christmas decorations in the downtown area also suffered. A string of tinsel and bells over Delmar Avenue at Niedringhaus Avenue was blown down and a tinsel streamer from the overhead decorations at 19th and State Streets broke and dangled into the streets until firemen secured it Wednesday morning.

14 Guns Stolen in GC Store Burglary

A total of 14 guns, ranging from a 12-gauge double barrel weapon to several .22 caliber automatics, together with an undetermined amount of cash and valuable papers, were taken in a burglary at Earl's Discount Store, 10th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, Earl Harris, owner, reported at 8:45 a.m. Wednesday. Value of the stolen items was not listed.

Entry was gained by pushing the filters from an air conditioning unit, located on the parking area side of the building. The thieves pried a lock from a rear door and removed a bar to leave the premises.

Money and papers stolen were contained in a bank bag. A portion of the cash was receipts from the sale of hunting licenses, police were told. Investigators found a flashlight and pliers inside the premises and work gloves, apparently used by the thieves, were laying on the floor.

partnership in this important gateway transportation development."

The governor said the state funds will come from the $900 million balanced transportation bond issue approved by the Illinois General Assembly this year.

The bond issue includes $600 million for road construction, $200 million for aid to mass transit, and $100 million for airport development.

Ogilvie emphasized that he and Mayor Cervantes, in announcing joint plans for developing a regional airport in April 1970, pledged "to provide the St. Louis region with one of the world's greatest airports—compatible with regional planning, free of air space conflicts and environmental hazards, and providing the easiest possible access for the majority of the area's air transport users."

Ogilvie continued: "From the outset, Mayor Cervantes and I have shared the goal that this airport should be not only a model of air transportation planning, but also of surface transportation."

With the cooperation of interested civic and governmental bodies, Ogilvie concluded, "I am confident that we will show the entire nation a model of modern mass transit and rapid transit planning and operation."

If you bought one before Aug. 15, don't feel deprived.

You're still saving over the average car about $1500 on the car itself, over $100 a year on gas, and $500-knows-how-much on repairs.

and Southern Railroad could provide a larger outlet, this would help solve the problem."

To Meet Officials
As a result of the meeting, the letter said, William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice, president of the levee board, is to meet with Alton and Southern officials, and contacts are to be made with state highway officials.

The levee district refused to issue a building permit for the high school project on grounds drainage from the substantial fill required on the site would create substantial drainage into the Doherty Slough area and intensify the problem there.

Ebersoldt said yesterday, however, that "the levee district is not trying to stop the high school project or any other progressive building. We are trying only to solve some of the major drainage problems and need time to work out the solution. We agreed that the high school work can proceed."

whose faction generally opposes Whitwell-Ropac candidates. Patrick formerly was active in the Truth and Action Party and Whitwell and Ropac contended yesterday that the party's fund activities are substantially the same now as when Patrick was a member.

Patrick said the Nameoki Town Hall was used Monday night for raffle ticket sales and also as the possible site for determination of a winner.

The selection took place at a residence, and Whitwell denied that there had ever been any plan to hold it at the Town Hall. The tickets were dated for the day of the Town Board of Auditors meeting held Monday evening.

Patrick said raffle tickets were being sold by township employees during working hours; Whitwell said employees participated but on their own time. One ticket was sold to a 16-year-old boy, Patrick alleged, adding that the township also has the general assistance into public office," Patrick asserted.

Mobile Home, Family's Possessions Lost in Fire

The mobile home of Larry Chaffin, 2561 North Street, was destroyed by fire at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The Chaffin home is located outside the city and firemen did not respond to the alarm.

Capt. Ron Kerley, Commander of the local Salvation Army, said Chaffin, his wife and three children lost all of their possessions, including the presents for Christmas, money, clothing, and food. Chaffin who is a diabetic, also lost his supply of medicines.

The fire apparently started from an electrical short in the hot water tank. The Salvation Army has housed the family in a motel temporarily, and is trying to obtain new living quarters.

Concluding that he has contacted Suite's Attorney R. W. Griffith Jr., Patrick called on Whitwell to resign as supervisor. "Ever anxious to demand legal perfection in others of opposing political views, he has broken faith with those who voted him into public office," Patrick asserted.

A short in the electrical wiring caused a fire in the auto of Bernard Isenhardt, a teacher at Granite City High School, at 7:45 a.m. Tuesday in the school parking lot. Damage was estimated at $200.

Granite City firemen answered a call to 2433 Logan Ave. at 8:25 p.m. Tuesday. A small fire in the rubble of a demolished building was extinguished. There was no loss.

A fire at the rear of the Granite City Air Compressor Co., 2536 Washington Ave., at 10:45 a.m., Wednesday, did an estimated $200 damage to the building, and an estimated $700 damage to the contents. The fire was extinguished by Granite City firemen.

County Confirms Abolition of Its Building Board

An earlier decision to abolish the Madison County Public Building Commission was reaffirmed by the county board of supervisors yesterday in approval of a resolution eliminating the commission. The vote was 12 to 13.

The action followed debate of the proposal among board members and a refusal by Board Chairman Harold Landolt to permit Building Commission Chairman William Flippo to address the board against abolition.

The board voted in its November meeting to eliminate the commission, but the vote at that time was held illegal because the board failed to suspend the rules for a final passage vote. Yesterday's vote required only a simple majority because the motion already was considered on first reading.

Filling Ends Monday in County, State

Filing of nominating petitions for county offices subject to March 21 primary elections continued at the office of County Clerk Eugene H. Smith today with indications that many candidates are holding back their petitions until the deadline date is a bid for favored positions at the tail end of the ballots. Deadline for filing is 5 p.m. Monday.

No major races had developed today except a three-way Democratic bid for county recorder of deeds. At Springfield, Democratic candidates of the state ticket filed nominating petitions.

Woman Charged With Shooting At Auto

Two women were charged with unlawful use of weapons and criminal damage to property after allegedly shooting several bullet holes into the parked car of Donald Valencia, 1027 Madison Ave., Madison, yesterday.

Verna Farley, 34, of 25 W. Charles of Rocks Road, and Carol Pires, 25, of Roxana, were arrested when Madison and Granite City police stopped their car at 3 p.m. yesterday on Madison Avenue. Verna Farley also was ordered held for Granite City police who said they held a previous warrant for her arrest.

Larry Wimberly, 11, of 52 Grenzer Homes, Madison, was examined and X-rayed at St. Elizabeth Hospital following an accident at Second Street and Alton Avenue in which the boy was reported to have run into a car driven by Christine A. Narvaez, 1319 Market St. at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

ices and to provide engineering and other activities required in efforts to obtain possible future orders.

"Production at the Castings Division has been at a very low level for the past year mainly due to a lack of railroad product orders which normally represent about 50% of the plant's production."

"At the present time, the division does not have any orders for freight cars or underframes."

"During 1971, shop employment ranged from 800 to 1,000 employees, with some departments working on a part-time basis. With full loading, the division would provide approximately 1,000 jobs."

A truck driver again declined to go through a United Steelworkers picket line at the GSI Plant yesterday to pick up castings for a crane boom under replevin proceedings filed in circuit court at Edwardsville by the Marion Power Shovel Co. of Marion, Ohio.

A deputy sheriff was on duty outside the plant during the morning while about 25 pickets were served on company officials. It was learned, and the driver assigned to pick up the castings left the area after the pickets helped him change a flat tire.

A similar incident occurred Monday when a trucker refused to drive through the picket line to pick up a consignment of replevin castings for Westinghouse Corp. which also obtained a court order.

A replevin order also has been issued in circuit court at Manitowoc Co. of Manitowoc, Wis. for a consignment of ring gears and patterns, but no effort had been made today to obtain the items.

are water and rails. What would be better than to have the air (transportation) there too," Badaracco told the meeting.

Roos responded, "If we approve the Illinois airport, we will give birth to a strange new creature which will come to haunt our region. The creature will be one-half white elephant in its usefulness and one-half abattoir in its cost."

East St. Louis Mayor James E. Williams gave a boost to the effort for approval of the Illinois airport when he said the airport would provide jobs for core East St. Louis and St. Louis unskilled workers.

"The airport will be eight to 10 years in construction and these are the jobs core area people can take," Williams stated.

Slight Setback

Despite the victory for the site, the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority suffered a slight setback at the meeting as a resolution to recommend the retention of the present authority structure was tabled for one month. The action was taken to give Roos an opportunity to prepare an argument favoring a St. Louis County representative on the authority.

Cervantes told Roos at the meeting, "You didn't help us build or operate St. Louis International (Lambert Field) and I will be damned if I will let you step in now and tell us how to run our airports."

Roos presented a 37 page booklet stating the application for the airport "contains false, misleading and unsupported data" on the Illinois site. After losing the vote, Roos moved to have the booklet entered into the official record of the council and have a copy sent to the FAA.

"If so, it should be correctly entitled the minority report on the issue," Cervantes stated. The council approved the request with Cervantes' stipulation.

Patricia Schillinger Is Wed at Unitarian Church

Miss Patricia Ann Schillinger and James Lowell Hall exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony on Dec. 4 at the Unitarian Universalists Church in Urbana, Ill.

The Rev. Edward Harris performed the ceremony at 2 o'clock.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Schillinger of Rural Route Two. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Hall, reside at 306 Woodland Road, Lake Bluff, Ill. Given in marriage by his father, the former Miss Schillinger chose for her wedding a beige satin dress designed with an Empire waistline and long full sleeves. The frock was worn with a sleeveless lace vest in a matching shade of beige.

Miss Marsha Love, maid of honor, was attired in a similarly styled dress in a moss green shade.

Attending the groom as best man was Jeffery Comfort. David A. Schillinger and Michael Derr, seated the guests.

Mrs. Schillinger selected an orchid dress for her daughter's wedding and the groom's mother, Mrs. Hall, wore a grey and white frock. Both had white Sweetheart rose corsages.

A reception was given at the church after the ceremony. A buffet dinner was served in the home of an aunt, Mrs. Ben F. Muirhead of Champaign, and a late dinner followed at the Redwood Inn in Rantoul, Ill.

The former Miss Schillinger, a student at the University of Illinois, also is employed as a secretary at the Center for Advanced Computation at the university.

Mr. Hall is completing work toward a master's degree at the University of Illinois. The newly married couple will make their home at 610 Fourth St., Champaign.

enjoy the convenience of new and improved color viewing with TOTAL AUTOMATIC COLOR SYSTEM by MAGNAVOX AND SAVE DURING OUR HOLIDAY SPECIALS

complete with pedestal table

$429

Elegant mediterranean styling in hand rubbed pecan finish with antique brass hardware; a combination of beauty in furniture combined with the ultimate in viewing pleasure due to TAC... the complete electronic system that lets you kick the bothersome TV adjustment habit. It automatically keeps pictures sharp, flesh tones natural. No more green or purple faces — not when you switch channels, not when the scene changes. The new 19" diagonal measure Matrix picture tube, with a black opaque substance isolating each color dot, gives you a brighter, clearer, sharper picture. And — the Magna-Power chassis uses predominately solid-state components for improved performance and increased reliability.

GARDEN STUDY CLUB CHRISTMAS LUNCHEON

The Garden Study Club observed the holidays with a Christmas luncheon at the Officers Club of the Granite City Army Installation. Hostess for the event was Mrs. G. W. Stearns, who was assisted by a committee headed by Mrs. Robert Blankenship as chairman. A lighted ceramic Christmas tree and red candles encircled the table. Christmas arrangements made by Mrs. Clifford Mang served as favors. The invocation was given by Mrs. W. G. Cooley and the club president, Mrs. E. H. Thies, welcomed all to the party. Dessert was served by Mrs. Dan Seymour.

A business session was conducted by the president, and it was announced that two pin oak trees have been purchased for Stroms Park, Ames Avenue and Johnson Roads.

Entertainment for the day was presented by Mrs. Richard Branding, who was accompanied by Mrs. Jack French. Selections included "No Candle Was There and No Fire," "Ave Maria," "Count Your Blessings" and "White Christmas." Mrs. Branding led good carols. Canned items for Christmas baskets were collected and members brought gifts for residents of the Madison Nursing Home in Madison.

Guests included Miss Louella Deering, Mrs. Charles Lott, Mrs. Millie Klesh, Mrs. Delmar French and Mrs. Robert Briggs. Members attending, in addition to those named, were Mesdames Toby Anderson, C. E. Eads, Rolla Grewell, Marceline Jung, H. E. Lynch, J. O. Lehman, Delbert McKissick, Bonard Maples, Arthur Roman, Dan Seymour, August Thies, S. M. Wilson, Wilmer Winter, W. G. Cooley and John Sigite.

A gift exchange took place and it was announced that the next meeting will be held Jan. 5 at the same location, with Mrs. J. O. Lehman as hostess.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM TONIGHT AT PARKVIEW

Parkview School PTA will celebrate Christmas season tonight at 7:30 when a special program will be presented by some of the students. Vocal music selections will be under the direction of Mrs. Mary Jane Fester.

Room mothers will serve refreshments in the cafeteria following the meeting. Reports will be given on the recent "fun fair" and future programs will be announced.

Representatives of the Granite City Police Department have visited the school to speak to children concerning safety precautions and to distribute copies of a new police department booklet, "Every Hour My Police Friends Help Me." Sponsors of the coloring book publication are the Granite City Kiwanis Club, Granite City Senior High Art Department, Mercer Ambulance Service, Robert Thomas, Madison County coroner, and the police department.

Methodist Services in Madison

The First United Methodist Church of Madison, located at Fifth Street and Ewing Avenue, will conduct Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. and a Christmas worship service at 10:45 a.m. on Sunday, Dec. 19.

During the worship service, the Christmas story taken from Luke 2:1-20 will be read and the sermon, entitled "Becoming a Child at Christmas," will be offered by the Rev. Donald Bogue, pastor.

At 7 p.m. Sunday, the Christmas program will take place in the church sanctuary with the Sunday school children singing appropriate songs and giving recitations. The entire congregation will sing the Christmas Cantata, "The Night the Angels Sang." Refreshments will be served after the program.

A Christmas Eve candlelight service will be presented at 11 p.m. Friday, Dec. 24, using the theme "The Light of the World."

On Sunday, Dec. 26, a group of college students will speak on the topic "What I Like About Christmas" at the 10:45 a.m. services.

Shower Benefits Clothing Center

Traditions and symbols of the holiday season were described by Mrs. Carol Lux in a special program given Tuesday evening for members of Chapter KU of the P.E.O. Sisterhood.

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Charlotte Lierman, 2046 Waterman Ave., 15 chapter members also heard the "true meaning of Christmas" explained by Mrs. Lux.

Mrs. Jo Ann Burky, president, was in charge of the business session, with plans made to meet Jan. 10 in the home of Mrs. Joanne Kraus, 2585 Spaulding Ave.

In lieu of the usual Christmas gift exchange, the members hosted a shower. Items presented will be contributed to the "Nearly New Clothing Center," a project sponsored by Coordinated Youth Services and the Quad-City Church Women United for local teenagers in need.

A social hour concluded the meeting, with fruit cake, nuts and other holiday fare served by the hostess.

Madison Seniors Host Party, Tour

The Rev. Thomas Jefferson gave the invocation followed by a song presented by Mrs. Beulah Thornton.

Leroy Jones was in charge of the afternoon program and gift exchange.

On Tuesday 15 members, accompanied by the club supervisor, Mrs. Dorothy Buford, visited the Shrine of Our Lady of Snows in Belleville.

Those attending were Leroy Jones, Sherman Brookfield, Henry Jackson, and Mesdames Ruth Spearman, Margaret Wright, Gertrude Nollner, Irene Vernon, Irene Collins, T. A. McDonald, Lillian Shirley, Beatrice Thomas, Bertha Dozier, Alice Stinson, Rose Mitchell, Jessie Page, Anna Mae Price and Joetta Mode.

Travelers Abroad Yuletide Banquet

Travelers Abroad held its annual Christmas banquet this week at the Granite City Army Installation's Officers Club.

Charles Schweizer, president, was in charge. The evening's program was Miss Alice Purdes, music teacher in the Madison schools, who gave an illustrated lecture.

Miss Purdes discussed a recent 6-week study trip, called "Campus at Sea," which she had taken. The journey extended through Portugal, Spain, Monaco, Italy, Greece, Russia, Turkey, Israel, Algeria and Morocco.

At every stop the students taking part in the tour, sponsored by Indiana University, made first hand observations and recorded on tape the indigenous music ranging from medieval street musicians and snake charmers in Algeria to grand opera at La Scala in Milan.

To illustrate her talk at the Travelers Abroad meeting, Miss Purdes provided excerpts from the tape recordings.

Kiwanians Host Wives at Party

A Christmas dinner party for wives and guests of Granite City Kiwanians was given Monday evening at Charlie's Restaurant. Entertainment was furnished by Patsy Simister, at the organ, and Mrs. Phyllis Gillie, who led the group in singing Christmas carols.

Approximately 50 members and guests attended. Gifts and special holiday carriages were presented to the ladies.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Supler of Beaver, Pa., guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Waggoner, Supler, a former Granite Cityan, is a past president of the Beaver Kiwanis Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Caion were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rezer and Margaret Lewis was the guest of Herman Barker.

Darrell Weible, Kiwanis Club president, presented a plaque and gavel to Melvin Gillie of Granite City for his achievements while serving as lieutenant governor during 1970-71 in District 14 of Kiwanis International.

$30 Million Requested To Operate University

Revised operating budget requests totaling $91,765,586 for 1972-73 have been reported at Carbondale to the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees. This is $16,500,000 above the $78,228,960 appropriated for operations in 1971-72. The figure for SIU-SW is $30,861,276. The amount is $13,110,368 less than requests of $104,886,434 submitted Oct. 1 to the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

For the Carbondale campus, the revised request is $7,234,039 less than the $68,290,229 asked for originally, and for the Southwestern campus a cut of $5,774,929 from $36,636,206.

The requests reflect an increase of 15.54% above the current $32,711,688 appropriated for Carbondale and 18.62% above the 1971-72 amount of $26,017,272 for SIU-SW. At its September meeting the board had approved the original operating requests which were prepared according to Board of Higher Education guidelines. Because of financial and educational developments since September and as a result of a budgetary review, SIU administrators agreed on the revised amounts. The new requests were approved conditionally by the board Nov. 19.

The amounts listed do not include retirement contributions. Non-recurring items in the 1971-72 budget amount to $1,657,313, plus $243,897 for programs which will be discontinued.

New funds requested for 1972-73 include $4,234,858 for academic and non-academic salary increases, $1,913,275 for the Medical School at Carbondale and Springfield and $203,300 for the Law School at Carbondale. It is estimated that the 1972-73 funds will include $82,908,800 from general revenue and $8,857,676 from the university income fund.

Also reported were BHE capital budget recommendations as related to the 1972-73 capital budget request. These recommendations total $10,860,055, with $8,137,550 authorized by the Illinois Building Authority.

The revised amounts are: for Carbondale, $1,788,830 from general revenue, plus $967,250 authorized from the sale of bonds by the IBA; for the Medical School at Springfield $462,000, and from the IBA $7,170,300; for SIU-SW $464,675, plus $7,000 for the Alton center, both from general revenue. The Alton center School of Dental Medicine received $2,294,000 from the IBA for 1971-72.

David Richard Derge will become president of SIU at Carbondale Feb. 1 following unanimous approval for the post by the SIU board.

The vote was 5 to 0. Board members William W. Allen of Bloomington and Harris Row of Jacksonville were absent. The resolution that a named Derge president called for a salary of $50,000 a year.

Matinee Helps Provide Gift Baskets for Needy

Youngsters attending a special matinee at the Washington Theatre during the weekend aided the Salvation Army's "Tree of Lights" campaign by contributing more than six bushel baskets of canned goods and a total of $34 in cash.

Admission fee at the benefit movie was either a can of food or 25 cents. The donations will help provide Christmas gift baskets for local needy families.

Over 450 children attended the show, Captain Ronald J.

Dunbar Pupils to Hear Talk on American Art

Mrs. Linda Dittmeier, graduate assistant in the art department at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, will give an illustrated lecture on American art to fourth, fifth and sixth grade humanities classes today at Dunbar School.

The lecture will be part of a study being made on American art by the humanities students.

Kerley, Salvation Army Commander, said. The facilities were donated by the theatre management.

McKendree Receives $5,000 from Alumnus

McKendree College has received a $25,000 gift from an alumnus to use as a challenge gift in McKendree's $250,000 1971-72 annual fund campaign. Charles Daily, chairman of the college board of trustees, has announced.

A group of friends of the college, including several trustees, has raised another $25,000 to make available a pool of $50,000 to match dollar-for-dollar gifts by other alumni and friends of the four-year liberal arts college in Lebanon.

The college is seeking to raise $250,000 to balance its budget of $1,908,855, which Daily pointed out already provides maximum educational benefit for every dollar spent. Daily said the $250,000 sought represents 12% of the total budget, far less than many private colleges have to seek from the community. Dedication and devotion by administration and staff help to hold down the costs, Daily said.

House Burglarized

Dear Nana--Writing and Visiting Helps Cure Loneliness; Nickname for Grandma

By JACKIE STEFANICH
Copley News Service

Dear Nana:
I surely would like your "word" on how to overcome loneliness. It's not for me but so I can help others through this depression or at least learn to cope with it.

I'm 88 and I've been alone for many years but believe it or not, I've never been lonely. I write a lot to shut-ins and get out as often as possible to see and talk with people.

I'm sure you realize how much this helps me and I'm always hoping it just may be of some benefit to others.

As I'm not a wealthy person I have to do my bit of good in a small way. And any advice you can give me to help others who suffer from loneliness will certainly be appreciated.

Dear E. S.:

I'm afraid I haven't any better advice to give you than what you're already doing.

Keeping busy is one of the best cures I know for loneliness. It helps pass the idle hours, consequently you don't have time to feel sorry for yourself.

And, with your marvelous attitude on this matter, I'm sure you're helping many people through these difficult times.

I only hope that the people you're trying to help appreciate your wonderful efforts.

Dear Nana:

This is more or less a bit for that situation as I do volunteer work for a Sheltered Workshop. So I'm interested in your arts and crafts projects, too, as well as your advice to senior citizens.

I would appreciate your sending me your hobby projects and I have one for you that your readers might enjoy.

It's a Christmas card wreath made from old Christmas cards. They are very lovely and wonderful Christmas gifts.

I've enclosed a sample so you can see how they are made.

Thank you for your exchange cooperation in this matter.

Christmas Card Wreath: Thank you for the sample and advice about your Christmas card wreath. I'm sure they are very beautiful and I know that many of my readers will be interested in making them.

And I also hope that the hobby projects I've sent you will be beneficial in your work at the Sheltered Workshop.

Dear Nana:

You gave the correct advice to the woman who's going into a rest home and has to give up her pet. I only pray that she will abide by the veterinarian's decision.

And you were fortunate to find a good home for your beloved pet through your veterinarian.

Last year an elderly man died in our neighborhood and his 11-year-old dog was brought to me.

I didn't take my veterinarian's advice and have this dog to sleep. He had kidney trouble.

This little dog slept on the bed of his master and the poor animal grieved so. But I felt in time he would get over the shock of the loss.

My home was ruined, but some friends with a lovely yard took the dog. Five days later they brought the dog back to me as he refused to eat. And this dog wasn't interested in the outdoors as he was a house dog. My friends refused to let the dog on the bed because of their electric blankets.

Unless an older dog can find a home similar to his own, the only thing left to do is to have the animal put to sleep.

A younger dog can adjust as I've found homes for many strays. I belong to all of the humane animal projects and I'm an animal lover.

Sometimes I had a severe stroke. My family says God is getting the animal room ready for me to take care of.

A stray cat was dumped at my husband's place of business. He kept this cat until it died at the old age of 16. This cat became famous and had many write-ups in the newspaper.

In this busy world people think I'm nuts to worry so about animals. If so, I'm a happy nut.

H. M.

Dear H. M.:
Although I knew I'd be severely censured for the advice I gave on this subject, it's nice to know that someone agrees with me. And I'm sure I'd give the same advice again on this question.

The old saying, "The more I see of people the more I like for animals," makes a lot of sense.

Dear Nana:
I read the letter from the grandmother who didn't want to be called grandmother but wanted you to send her a list of nicknames so she could choose the one she liked better.

As for me, I like to be called grandmother. And most of my daughter's friends, also many of mine, call me grandmother.

I was down in southern Mexico visiting a hospital where I once worked. It is in the mountains surrounded by Chimala Indians. They also have a training school there.

All of the nurses and workers, except the ones in charge and teachers, are Mexican or Indian. And they all called me Yaya, which is the Indian name for grandmother.

I thought you might like to pass this nickname on to the lady who doesn't want to be called grandmother.

Dear L. L.:
Thank you for your interesting contribution to my nickname for grandmother.

I'm sure those prospective grandmothers who are looking for an unusual nickname will want to consider Yaya, as I will admit it's quite different and one that I'd never heard of before.

Hot Meals Program Expands to 80 a Week

Mobile Meals, a pilot program to supply "hot meals on wheels" to Quad-City residents who are handicapped, needy, post-surgical and diabetic patients and shut-ins, has grown in its 15 month existence to serve 80 meals a week, according to the Rev. Paul R. Surbey, project chairman.

The meals, prepared in the kitchens at St. Elizabeth Hospital, are delivered to a wide variety of recipients by volunteers from church, fraternal and civic groups, the minister said. As Christmas approaches, area churches, clubs and individuals are invited to make contributions to help defray the expense of serving hot meals to residents of the community who are unable to assume the cost themselves. Six dollars will pay for one week of hot meals, the Rev. Surbey noted.

Referrals to the program can be made by calling 876-8770, or the Rev. Surbey at St. John

United Church of Christ. Volunteers who have donated their time to assist with the Mobile Meals program during the past three months represented Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church, Pontoon Baptist Church, Homesteaders Extension Bureau, New Hope Baptist Church, First Church of the Nazarene, First Assembly of God, Tri-City Park Tabernacle, Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Concordia Lutheran Church,

Faraway Events Directly Affect State--Ogilvie

By GOVERNOR
RICHARD B. OGILVIE

Dock strikes may sound like faraway events, but their effects touch every American.

In our fantastically interdependent economy, we often feel the effects of faraway events where it hurts the most—in our pocketbooks.

The story of how the strikes affected Illinois citizens and farmers is a good illustration.

Farmers had a bumper crop of soybeans and corn this year in Illinois.

Half the beans and a quarter of the corn go into international trade, and believe me, there's nothing faraway or mysterious about that.

Illinois is the leading exporter of farm goods in the country, and if Illinois farmers get in trouble, so does the state's economy meaning the prosperity of all of us.

From the moment the strikes began at Gulf and East Coast ports in early October, Illinois farmers' representatives went to work.

They urged the President and their representatives in Congress to take action against the dock strikes because of the damage to their sales abroad.

As the strikes progressed, the bumper crop piled up with nowhere to go, and prices fell sharply.

Losses to date are more than $40 million—in lowered prices—for Illinois alone.

But the problem was worse than any immediate loss. Foreigners want stability and guaranteed delivery, like any customers.

So when they turn away from our producers, they tend to stick with new suppliers who can deliver the goods.

After consultation with the Illinois Agricultural Association, I communicated directly with the President and others in the administration.

What we sought was the inclusion of the 80-day cooling-off provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Word came back, however, that the President was reluctant to use this one-time-only power while negotiations were still in progress.

So they were—but so were losses amounting to more than $4 million a week to Illinois alone.

When Vice-President Agnew and I appeared later before the farm association in Chicago, feeling about the losses was running high.

I spent considerable time discussing the problem with them.

What we sought was the inclusion of the 80-day cooling-off provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

So they were—but so were losses amounting to more than $4 million a week to Illinois alone.

the farm leaders during the time I spent at the meeting.

Two days later, I won unanimous approval from the nation's Republican governors for a resolution urging quick action in Washington.

But the dam didn't break until two days before Thanksgiving, when negotiations were suspended in a complete stalemate.

First thing the next morning, I called Attorney General John Mitchell.

"We're ready to move, now that negotiations have stalled," he told me.

This was followed by the President's own announcement on Thanksgiving day, and the ports re-opened under a dozen or more court injunctions the following Monday.

The same day came bad news that his every American in his pocketbook.

Our balance of trade in October—exports measured against imports—was a whopping negative $521 million.

Again, there's nothing mysterious about this. We're sending far more dollars abroad than are being used to buy our products.

This has been one of the serious problems that led to the present wage and price controls, and to international military talks about devaluing the American dollar.

If the outward flow of American dollars were to continue at the October rate, we'd be papering the world with nearly $10 billion excess dollars a year.

This impossible situation was clearly in the President's mind when he put a 10% surcharge on all imports.

The dock strikes undoubtedly contributed heavily to the bleak October trade deficit.

In this troubling situation, I am sure of one thing: Events that sound faraway have a direct dollars-and-cents impact on all of us.

What we sought was the inclusion of the 80-day cooling-off provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

For many American servicemen stationed overseas in South Vietnam, long distance calling to relatives and friends back home this Christmas can be the most heart-breaking thing to being there.

To accommodate the increased calling volume during the holiday season, 28 overseas telephone circuits are available to South Vietnam, according to Dale Kaeshofer, local manager for Southwestern Bell.

"More than 1,000 calls per day were completed during the Christmas season last year for off-duty servicemen calling home from South Vietnam," he said.

"This year, we expect there will be more than 2,000 calls completed daily."

The combined efforts of the USO, the military, the Bell System and communications people in South Vietnam, Hong Kong and Guam will be directed toward simplifying the Pacific calling process and permitting the maximum number of calls between South Vietnam and the U.S.

Kaeshofer suggested that arrangements be made to have the servicemen call home if possible.

"Trying to reach a serviceman quickly by calling from the United States is extremely difficult," Kaeshofer noted. "Military people are likely to be on duty or stationed in remote areas."

He reminded persons who are planning overseas Christmas calls to consider the 14-hour time difference between the U.S. and Saigon.

"When it's 11 a.m. on Dec. 25 in Granite City, it's 1 a.m. on Dec. 26 in Saigon," he pointed out.

The rate for the first three minutes of a station-to-station call to Vietnam is $9, Kaeshofer said, while a person-to-person call for three minutes is $12. Each additional minute for both kinds of calls is $3.

Mrs. Miller Hosts Chapter HT

The home of Mrs. B. S. Miller, 3230 Princeton Drive, was attractively decorated in a Yuletide theme for the Christmas party and luncheon of Chapter HT of the P.E.O. Sisterhood Monday afternoon. Mrs. M. E. Anderson served as co-hostess.

A business meeting was held after the lunch and plans were made for the "Founders Day" luncheon of the Metro-East Roundtable, to be held Jan. 18 at the Sunset Hills Country Club. Chapter HT was responsible for arranging the luncheon's location.

Mrs. E. F. Reiske, program chairman, narrated "Why The Chimes Rang" and played the piano for the Christmas carol fest.

An unusual gift exchange was planned by Mrs. A. C. Stover, who narrated "The Night Before Christmas" and requested each member to recite a line of the poem as they received their gift.

Those attending were presented with a holly corsage, festooned with red velvet ribbon, made by the hostess from live holly grown in her yard.

The Jan. 10 meeting will be with Mrs. L. C. Slate, 240 Shir-lene Drive.

Venice Women Mark 16th Christmas Party

Festive holiday decorations and miniature Christmas trees placed as favors next to gaily wrapped gifts created the atmosphere for the 16th annual Christmas party of the Venice Women's Club held this week at Charlie's Restaurant.

Big Turnover Expected Next Year In Illinois Assembly Membership

By KEN WATSON
Capitol News Service
Springfield—One aspect of the 1972 election that is freely predicted at the Statehouse is that there will be a record number of candidates for the Illinois House and Senate.

All 58 Senate seats will be up next year as well as the 177 in the House.

Starting in 1974, the Senate terms will return to the staggered procedure with half coming up for election each two years.

A major reason for the anticipated record field of legislative candidates is the new salary, now at an impressive $17,500 a year for both senators and representatives.

Many a marginal candidate debating whether to enter a primary in some backwater district will be influenced by the relatively high pay to take a gamble. Scores of longshots, each with some kind of personal popularity in his home area, will be entering the field.

The makeup of the 78th Illinois General Assembly which will be elected next November and will convene the following January may be far different from those Assemblies that have preceded it.

The winds of change are blowing through the legislature, and many students of state government feel it is for the worse.

Already, nine veteran senators have announced they will not be candidates for re-election next year. The number of outgoing House and Senate veterans will probably increase by the end of filing time.

Why are they leaving when the pay is at its lowest high? There are a number of reasons involved, but the major one deals with the quality of the men themselves. Most legislators have been practically well-to-do; they have lucrative businesses or law practices back home. To many, much of the legislative pay increases are eaten up in income taxes.

Another important reason is that lawmaking in Illinois has become almost a full-time operation. The legislature meets in regular sessions, and interim or special sessions in the fall have become almost a habit.

It is difficult to spend this much time in Springfield and still do a good job of running a business back in the district. Older members especially find the physical strain a severe one.

The big debate over ethics, including income disclosure, also has encouraged some well-qualified men to say goodbye to lawmaking. It's not that all of them are dishonest by any means, but many feel that privately earned income is no one's business, including politics.

There are those who feel that a mass exodus of veteran senators and representatives will be a performance. Maybe. But others are concerned that it may mean a loss of experience and ability to the legislature.

The $17,500 salary—although obviously high to the average citizen—is, nevertheless, not in itself sufficient to attract as a full-time legislator a man of exceptional ability who can earn much more in private endeavors.

The full-time lawmaking appears here to stay.

The complexity of state government and the problems with which it must deal rule out any return to the old six-months biennial sessions.

The best that can be hoped for at this stage is to limit the odd-year sessions to a strict six months and limit the even-year meetings to three months and confined to budgetary matters.

In the meantime, some good men are leaving or shunning the legislature. This could mean serious damage for Illinois in the not too distant future.

Labor Force Up 390,000 in Month To All-Time High of 85,200,000

(Bureau of Labor Statistics)

Unemployment moved up in November but the labor force continued to gain and reached 85 million for the first time.

Total employment has risen substantially since the summer. The unemployment rate was 6.9% in November, compared with 5.8% in October. The overall jobless rate has fluctuated close to the 6% mark since last November.

White workers accounted for all of the November increase in joblessness. Their unemployment rate, which had edged down between August and September, rose from 5.5% to 5.7% in November, a return to the levels prevailing during much of 1971.

The jobless rate for Negroes dropped over the month—from 10.7% to 9.3%—after drifting upward since the beginning of the year.

Nonagricultural payroll employment rose slightly in November, as employment in most major industry divisions edged up from their October levels.

The number of unemployed persons totaled 4.8 million in November. After allowance for the usual seasonal changes unemployment was up 210,000 between October and November, with virtually all of the increase occurring among young adults.

The bulk of the overall rise in joblessness stemmed from job loss, rather than from the entry or re-entry of jobseekers into the labor force.

The overall jobless rate was 6.0% in November, compared with 5.8% in October and 6.0% in September. Although unemployment rates for a few major labor force groups changed over the month, jobless rates for most workers were not significantly different in November from the patterns that have generally prevailed during 1971.

Unemployment rates for all adult men (4.4%) and teenagers (17.0%) showed little or no change from their October levels. The adult male rate continued within the relatively narrow 4.2-4.5% range in evidence since the beginning of the year.

The teenage jobless rate stood at the 17% mark for the fourth consecutive month and has shown no clear trend since rising sharply in late summer and early fall of 1970.

For married men, however, the jobless rate (2.3%) was up slightly over the month, following a drop in October. Their rate has also shown no marked change during the course of the year.

The unemployment rate for adult women rose from 5.5% to 5.8% over the month but was little different from the levels that have prevailed throughout 1971. The October-to-November rise primarily reflected increased joblessness among 20-24-year-olds.

The November increase in unemployment occurred almost entirely among full-time workers, whose rate rose from 5.4% in October to 5.8% in November. The jobless rate for part-time workers was essentially unchanged over the month.

For workers covered by state unemployment insurance programs, the jobless rate moved down from 4.5% to 4.2% in November (seasonally adjusted).

The decline returned the state-insured rate to the August level, after small increases in the intervening months.

The increase in joblessness in November resulted in a rise in the number of workers unemployed less than five weeks, which, in turn, was partly responsible for lowering the average duration of unemployment to 11.7 weeks, seasonally adjusted.

Since May, the average duration of unemployment has fluctuated narrowly around 12 weeks, or three weeks above year-ago levels.

The number of workers on part-time or temporary jobs (those who want full-time work but have been unable to find only a part-time job or have had their workweek reduced because of economic factors affecting their jobs) rose from 2.5 to 2.6 million (seasonally adjusted) in November.

This series had hovered around the 2.5-million mark since late December, but the November increase brought the number of such workers to a 10-year high.

The nation's civilian labor force rose by 390,000 in November, seasonally adjusted, to an all-time high of 85.2 million.

The over-the-month increase, confined largely to adult women and teenagers, continued the expansion of the civilian labor force in evidence since late summer.

Total employment has risen substantially since the summer. The increase in recent months has been concentrated among adult women.

After dropping substantially in October, unemployment among Vietnam-era veterans rose to 29 years old returned to the level that had prevailed throughout the third quarter of 1971.

A total of 320,000 war veterans were unemployed in November, 50,000 more than in October, while the number em-

'Out of the Marsh' Goal of Decades Ago Still Appropriate for Rain-Plagued Area

It would be an understatement to say that many Quad-Cityans were concerned about stormwater drainage this week. The heavy rains during the weekend and again Monday and Tuesday flooded many streets and yards and caused difficulty in moving about, whether on foot or in autos.

The problem of inadequate drainage is serious. It could be remedied if residents had an appropriate ballot handy to mark on the morning after a downpour. They would act affirmatively. Unfortunately, at key times in past years, usually in the midst of dry spells, negative votes prevailed whenever a fully adequate drainage installation program was being proposed.

The project most active in trying to end periodic flooding has been Mrs. Helen M. Hawkins of Nameoki Township. She handed us a letter from her yesterday for The Forum column and we will reproduce it in this column. "By now, I think it is possible to have as much rainfall in December as it is in July. It is about time the unconcerned of our area start being concerned about the drainage problem. We all face in times of a two-inch or more rain."

"The state has allotted money to help start the project in the Dubuque Slough area, but we can't seem to get the ball rolling due to local hangups."

"I have worked on this project for three years and the only time we get any participation is when we have precipitation. So let's all pitch in and help."

"We can either sink or swim and I prefer to do neither, which is possible with adequate drainage."

"The way a citizen has of helping is by writing and sending pictures or calling our legislators and telling them the story again. Here are their addresses:

Compared with November 1970, unemployment was little changed, but employment increased by 500,000; the number of 20-24-year-old Vietnam veterans in the population rose 500,000 over the year.

The unemployment rate for veterans rose from 7.9% to 8.2% over the month. The veterans' rate in November exceeded the rate for non-veterans on this age group, as was the case in most months of 1971. For non-veterans, both the level (570,000) and rate of unemployment (7.0%) in November were essentially unchanged from October.

Non-agricultural payroll employment rose 80,000, seasonally adjusted, in November, following a month of little change. The November increase brought the number of payroll jobs to within 235,000 of the lifetime high set in March 1970.

Small over-the-month employment gains were posted in both the goods and service-producing sectors.

The average workweek for all rank-and-file workers on private nonagricultural payrolls edged up 0.1 hour, seasonally adjusted, in November to 37.2 hours.

This small rise in seasonally adjusted hours resulted from the shift of the Veterans Day holiday—which in previous years had usually occurred during the November survey week—to the fourth Monday of October. As a result of this change in the holiday, hours in the typical decline in hours did not take place this year.

Average hourly earnings of production and nonsupervisory workers on private nonfarm payrolls rose $3.47 in November, a decline of two cents from October. Compared with 1970, average weekly earnings were up by $7.67 or 6.3%.

During the latest 12-month period for which the Consumer Price Index is available—October 1970 to October 1971—consumer prices rose by 3.8%.

As a result of the drop in hourly earnings, average weekly earnings in November were down 74 cents from October. Gains in weekly earnings in manufacturing and services were more than offset by declines in mining, construction, finance, insurance and real estate.

"All we want for Christmas is a dry home. Mrs. Helen M. Hawkins."

It would not be fair to say that local area voters are to blame for the myriad drainage woes. They share the responsibility with many other people and occurrences and circumstances.

It always has been a difficult task to design and operate low-cost systems in such a flat area.

More than once, large numbers of voters did work to pass adequate programs, only to go down to defeat because self-serving politicians sought to demonstrate their "clout," currying favor among the electorate by upholding and appealing to selfish short-sighted thinking.

Levee District policy-setters for years drained huge tax sums from Granite City and Nameoki Township while only providing a pit-tence in the way of new storm lines. They consistently short-changed what projects they did carry out by wasting many dollars on stacked-bidding, building and hiring procedures.

When a major Levee District-City drainage network was built in Granite City, it proved to be more of a bother than a solution. Dozens of breaks occurred in subsequent years, costing vast amounts for repairs and replacements.

When substantial state financing was arranged for a storm sewer system, political "leaders" who did not see eye to eye with it persuaded Governor Kern into mounting irrelevant comments in the form of two devastatingly destructive veto messages. Gov. Kern, now in a lot of water (hot) over another phase of his 1960-68 stewardship, never did figure out the difference between hillside and community drainage in his two terms in the executive mansion.

A few Granite City municipal officials have added to the difficulty by opting for a "great wall of China" approach. "We've got enough problems now without letting anybody else build a home or store or subdivision or shopping center or industry," some came close to saying from time to time. This attitude, and its tax-base-crippling side effects, are a big part of why they've "got enough problems."

In a narrow sense, it may seem logical to prevent construction where there is no drainage. The city's governing body, citing past sewer breaks, sometimes has used this rationale to block tap-ans, annexations or any other alterations of the status quo.

The Levee District has gone so far as to try to block construction of a new Granite City High School as well as discouraging many lesser building projects.

But such a situation is an untenable one to take unless everyone who says "ban new buildings" is simultaneously moving heaven and earth to promptly provide more drainage. And unless they then work as a team to not only submit a plan but encourage public support.

A newsmonger might assume that such teamwork would occur almost automatically. But one doesn't have to be much of an older to recall several drainage elections in which as many elected officials and purveyors of political power were urging "No" votes as were urging "Yes."

There have been some instances of drainage progress, some success, but clearly not enough.

This is the legacy, the "albatross around the neck," that confronts township and city fathers and Quad-City property owners, residents and taxpayers in mid-December 1971.

Drainage-wise, we're down to our necks. Citizens are disgruntled and frustrated, but not ready to give up.

If people's anger can be channeled into positive, constructive action—such as helping and hurrying the joint county-township-city drainage planning of the past several months—there yet can be an end to the "rainy day blues" which many years ago spawned a Nameoki village mayor's campaign theme, "Out of the marsh with Larsh!"

Then it was incumbent Gov. Horner battling the Kelley-Nash-Horner battle in the Capitol and went on to be re-elected to a second term.

This time, however, it is a paradoxical situation in that Downstate Simon has the backing of the Chicago organization of Mayor Richard J. Daley while Walker, although a Chicagoan, is challenging the machine.

Walker already has shown himself to be a tough campaigner of no mean talent. He has hoisted the usually calm Daley into verbal counterattacks that have raised some Statehouse eyebrows.

The general feeling beneath the Capitol Dome was that Simon, with all the big guns of Illinois Democratic machinery in his corner, would pretty much ignore Walker. But not so.

Walker quickly got under the Simon skin with a charge that—by appearing before party slake-makers—Simon was accepting support from the machine.

SHOPPER OBJECTS TO CHARGE FOR PARKING

To the Editor:

I've read how the businessmen of Granite City are trying to make our town a better place to shop. I have a suggestion: they need places where the public would have free parking.

I do not mean that a person mints paying a penny, nickel or even a dime to park. But, speaking of myself, I do mind getting a parking ticket for a few minutes overparking—especially during December, when I'm downtown doing Christmas shopping and spending money here in Granite City.

I was tired and, when I found a parking ticket on my car, I became aggravated. I don't get upset easily and I'm a pretty patient person.

I especially feel sorry for our older citizens who have to walk back to their cars for a few cents. I can imagine how a nervous person could get upset over this. We are within a half hour of a lot of shopping places. I'm sure they would be glad to have our business.

I've seen how downtown has lost a lot of its business. It is so convenient to shop in discount stores or shopping centers; you park on their lots and can stay in their stores all day long. They are waiting to watch the clock, run to your car and put more money in a parking meter.

Usually, the longer a person stays the more money he spends. If our police department needs money so badly, why don't the businessmen get together and pay the difference for parking—during the month of December, at least.

I know other people who feel the same as I do. Until there is more free parking I will do very little shopping there.

BUY U.S.-MADE CLOTHES TO PRESERVE JOBS HERE

To the Editor:

Here is a plea to the American people to help safeguard our jobs and buy union-made garments.

Those who are employed in the garment industry are alarmed at the increasing flood of foreign-made garments sold in this country. Many other industries are also affected.

Already, many of us are unemployed and others are working part-time. If the sale of our garments continues to rise, all of our garment factories will be forced to close and there will be hundreds more unemployed.

Our country cannot function at our standard of living if the percentage of unemployed continues to rise.

Wages of apparel workers as of Dec. 1, 1969: United States, $2.31 per hour; Japan, 38 cents per hour; Hong Kong, 26 cents per hour; Taiwan, 15 cents per hour; and Korea, nine cents per hour.

What would our loved ones' Christmas be like if we earned nine cents per hour?

GOOD PARKING LOTS, BAD WILLY STREETS

To the Editor:

By now, everyone in the area knows about the grand jury investigation of charges made by a group of concerned citizens living in the village of Pontoon Beach.

One of the charges, which has been at the top of the list, involves the way public funds are used.

Village officials admit road and bridge funds have been used to oil and chip business parking lots. They say a little might have spilled over while some of the streets.

Now isn't this answer ridiculous? Some places are located on Pontoon Road, which is maintained by the state highway department.

If such money would have been used for street repair, we would have one or two village streets in real good condition.

As of now, we drive over potholes that will tear up our cars and park on private parking lots fixed with our money.

It looks as though our only hope is with the grand jury. I hope the state highway department.

Worried Democrats and cheering Republicans expect the verbal brawl to escalate as the March primary campaigning becomes serious.

Simon, who always has taken pride in the Capitol description of him as "Mr. Klen," although many mean it cynically, is known to be sensitive about speculation that he has "made a deal" with Daley in return for his organization's support.

At least one highly-placed Statehouse Democrat has raised the possibility that Daley could have his eye on the U.S. Senate, a vacancy occurring should Senator Adlai E. Stevenson III wind up as vice-presidential candidate—a potential development that continues to attract increased discussion. The man elected Illinois governor next November would appoint Stevenson's successor.

Those close to Simon would vigorously scoff at any such arrangement. But, still, politics—and especially as practiced in Illinois—is a fascinating business. What is most significant at this stage is that such maneuvering could be taken seriously. If Simon and Walker aided as a result.

Raiding Party Finds Still in Cave

DECEMBER 16, 1946

A tip given by a small boy to police—that a man with a shotgun was guarding a lonely spot on Gabaret Island and had run the boy away from the place—led to the discovery by police of a hidden outfit. Thinking that a "den" for stolen merchandise had been established, the police searched for the place and found, in a cave, four barrels of mash, a complete still for making whiskey, an improvised stove and an array of utensils.

Prather Students Race Cars Which They Built

The culmination of one month of hard work for students in the eighth grade manufacturing class at Prather Junior High School came recently as students raced self-propelled cars which they had built in the final assembly in the school gym.

Ten cars qualified for the final competition from a field of about 100. The fastest cars were chosen after classroom races.

The finalists lined up and presented their cars to the assembly. The cars then were attached, two at a time, to a 50-foot dragstrip, a length of string from the starting block to a large sponge.

The cars contained carbon dioxide cartridges which when punctured provided propulsion. On the signal from Don Sulphin, manufacturing instructor, the cartridges were punctured then the cars jetted down the track at scale speeds of 400 to 600 miles per hour. The actual speed approached 55 miles per hour.

Gardner Winner

Each car was timed by a stopwatch and at the end of the assembly, Bruce Gardner was declared the winner for the best designed and fastest car.

The project began 20 class periods earlier as the boys designed their cars, first in thumbnail sketches and then in full scale drawings. The idea of the project was to design a car with the lightest possible frame and a wind resistant shape.

After the drawings had been completed the students carved full scale mock-ups of their cars in styrofoam. The final step was the actual carving of the car body from a solid piece of pine wood, and the attaching of soda straw bearings, axles and wheels. The total cost of the project was 60 cents per car.

The prototype cars were carefully painted and decorated before preliminary testing could begin.

After all of the "kinks" had been worked out, the cars were ready to race and classroom "heats" and "drags" became the high point of each student's school day.

Salt, Pepper Shakers

About 95% of the eighth grade boys at Prather are enrolled in the manufacturing class. The last project was building rockers which were fired from the school lawn. Presently the boys are building salt and pepper shakers.

The class will end the year by building high intensity reading lamps.

The sequel to the class is the required seventh grade building class in which students learn the art of construction.

Social Learning for Retarded Tested Here

Illinois and the Quad-Cities have joined the network of states participating in an innovative Yeshiva University program for educating mentally retarded children and youth. The university is located in New York City.

Sixty-five Illinois teachers will join nearly 800 teachers in 20 other states and Saskatchewan, Canada, field testing the social learning curriculum developed at the Curriculum Research and Development Center in Mental Retardation at Yeshiva University's Ferkauf Graduate School of Humanities and Social Sciences.

The program is innovative in its stress on "social learning," designed to prepare retarded children to deal with problems they will face as adults.

Funded by the Bureau of Education for the Handicapped, U. S. Office of Education, the Center is unique in its attempt to combine research and curriculum development to develop teaching materials for use in special classes, regular classes and tutorial settings.

Dr. Herbert Goldstein, director of the Center, said field testing will take place in Arlington Heights, Cicero, Elgin, Evanston, Granite City, Gurnee, LaGrange, Taylorville, Waukegan and Wood River.

Working closely with Mrs. Marjorie Franklin, coordinator of field operations at the Center, are Dr. Charles Nelson, research evaluator, Illinois Department for Exceptional Children, and the state supervisor of Educable Mentally Handicapped Programs, Peggy Droege.

Field test advisors for the communities are: Mrs. Velma Morton, Arlington Heights; Mrs. Patricia Gillett, Cicero; Mrs. Jean Watson, Elgin; Larry Dew, Granite City; Mrs. Ruth Meyers, Gurnee; Mrs. Dorothy Sessions, LaGrange; James Nuelle, Taylorville; Robert Abbott, Waukegan; Dave Hall, Wood River, and Gail Mines, Evanston.

The social learning curriculum also is being tested in Arizona, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Utah, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Ferkauf Graduate School of Humanities and Social Sciences offers programs in elementary and secondary education, administration, reading, psychology, Jewish education, guidance, special education and language and behavior.

Students Get Help at New Writing Clinic

More than 300 students have taken advantage of a new writing clinic sponsored by the English Department of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern according to its director, Barbara Lawrence.

The service began in September. English graduate students and one faculty member are available to students who are having problems writing research papers for classes. They spend up to two hours with each student, helping improve an assigned composition.

"Some students returned with additional papers because they were pleased with the grades received on the first paper," Miss Lawrence said.

Of the 321 students who visited the clinic between Oct. 7, the day it began keeping records, and Nov. 30, the majority of students received help with papers assigned in English classes. Sixty students taking classes offered by other university departments received help from the clinic.

Students View Largest Tank of Molten Glass

More than 75 undergraduate students and faculty members of the department of ceramic engineering in the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign went to Mount Zion near Decatur Tuesday to visit PPG Industries.

The trip was arranged by Frank D. Gae, 2941 Washington Ave., Granite City, president of the American Ceramic Society Student Branch at the U. of I. It was the first such trip to be sponsored by the society.

At the window glass plant in Mount Zion, they viewed a tank holding 2,500 tons of molten glass, one of the world's largest, and other facilities.

New Platters Brighten History of Jazz, Blues

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

For those of us who were too young, yet would like to enjoy the fine old sounds of the early blues and jazz greats, RCA has come to the rescue.

They have just released six new platters in their Vintage series, now making a total of 70 albums, which is designed to be a living history of jazz and the blues.

The package contains two blues albums, three jazz albums and a soul platter by the early and neglected Lil Green. Each disc has 16 cuts of original material, most of which has never been in album form until now.

In addition to Miss Green, there are performances by Artur (Big Boy) Crudup, Lionel Hampton, Oran Thaddeus (Hot Lips) Page, Washboard Sam with Memphis Slim and Big Bill Broonzy and an album called "Swing" which features many of the big bands of a few years ago.

Albums such as these demonstrate that not all things must change with the times to remain good. They show what jazz and blues were like before they became homogenized with pop, rock and whatever else might be thrown in the blender.

Breaking the package down into individual platters, you find Lil Green as one of the very earliest soul singers. She came from Chicago and reached her peak, while in her late teens and early twenties, just before and during World War II. At the time, Lil sang mainly for black audiences, in a rhythm-and-blues style.

"Romance in the Dark," title song on the album, was her first big hit on RCA's old Bluebird label in 1940 and sold for a low, low price of 35 cents.

Lending a rising hand on the disc is Big Bill Broonzy on guitar, who wrote three of the songs for Lil. "Why Don't You Do Right," the song which put Peggy Lee in the spotlight, is also included on the album in Lil's original high-voiced style. Arthur Crudup who has been called "the father of rock 'n' roll," was just a little ahead of his time. During the years from 1941 to 1966 he waxed nearly 80 sides for Bluebird, much of which was rock 'n' roll. However, rock was not to become popular for several more years and he was left out in the cold.

Crudup's album has its 16 bands set up in a chronological order to demonstrate the singer-guitarist's versatility in going from a blues wailer to a rock 'n' roll artist. He never became a rock superstar but he left a huge impact on the modern day music scene.

Lionel Hampton's platter, "Stomatology," is also set up in chronological order, starting way back in 1937 under his own name.

Hampton, who became one of the world's finest jazz vibes players, also is an expert drummer, pianist and vocalist. Working with him on these releases are some of the best sidemen in the business, mainly Ziggy Elman, Hyman Shertzer, Jess Stacy, Gene Krupa, Cootie Williams, Johnny Hodges, Cozy Cole and Hot Lips Page, one of the foremost jazz trumpeters and singers, didn't receive the fame to which he was entitled until late in life. This Vintage album is his first U. S. platter under his own name and is devoted entirely to his music. The cuts on the album date from 1938 to 1941 when Lips had one of his last big bands.

One of the truly great blues performers of the past was Washboard Sam, whose unique style made classics out of many of his songs. Sam's first few cuts featured just him on the washboard and vocals accompanied by guitar.

As his career grew, he added a piano and then a reed section. Accompanying Sam on this platter again is Big Bill Broonzy on guitar and Memphis Slim on piano. Many of the cuts were written by Sam himself under his real name, Robert Brown.

The swing-jazz era, dating from 1936 to 1946, is featured on the last album in the Vintage package under the title of "Swing, Vol. 1." This album brings together some of the greatest big bands ever to play. It starts out with four cuts by Gene Krupa's Swing Band, with such giants as Benny Goodman, Chu Berry, Roy Eldridge, Israel Crosby and vocalist Helen Ward on "I'm Gonna Clap My Hands" and "Mutiny in the Parlor."

Jazz Heavyweights Bunny Berigan, Tommy Dorsey, Fats Waller, Dick McDonough and George Westing also get it together. Trumpeter Frankie Newton, one of the unsung heroes of jazz, is featured with Pete Brown, Cole, James P. Johnson and Mezz Mezzrow. Also featured is Una Mae Carlisle, accompanied by Les

Young's Orchestra. She does four numbers on the album in her haunting blues style, blending perfectly with the memorable tenor sax of Several cuts by the Esquire All-Americans which grooved in the RCA studios are included in this heavy lineup. "Blow Me Down" and "Moldy Fig Stomp" are just two of these oldies but goodies.

The entire Vintage package is well worth its weight in gold and would be a welcome addition to anyone's record collection.

Council Asks Details On Grading Methods

A member of the Granite City Board of Fire and Police Commissioners has been invited to appear at the Dec. 20 meeting of the city council to explain in person the method used by the board in recommending employment of persons on the eligibility list.

Council members agreed to ask a board member to attend the meeting during discussion last week in which several aldermen criticized the police board for recommending employment in the fire department of a man 12th on an examination and grading list in preference to a man in seventh place on the list.

Alderman Emerald Dawes charged that the man seventh on the list "has been gone around three times. In a letter to the council, Ralph Elliott, chairman of the fire and police board, explained that five points are added to examination grades for men who are war veterans."

Alderman Steve Basarich criticized the board for releasing a statement to the Press-Record concerning grading procedure. "I think the commissioners used poor judgment in putting a piece in the paper before coming to the council," Basarich commented.

Gerald Parmley, alderman of Ward Six, said he believes that eligible applicants for police and fire jobs "should be placed in 1-2-3 order."

At a suggestion by Alderman Paul Schuler, Mayor Donald Partney said he would suggest that a member of the board be present at the Dec. 20 meeting to explain the matter.

Price Proposes 500,000 Jobs Financed by U. S.

Congressman Melvin Price has announced introduction of legislation in the House of Representatives which would create 500,000 immediate, federally-financed public service jobs designed to "help get the country back on the road to full employment again."

"All sorts of tax reductions have been proposed to help stimulate domestic employment," the local congressman said. "Some of these are going to be very helpful, and I support most of them. But the legislation introduced Friday will be the most direct proposal thus far for reducing unemployment: it simply creates jobs."

"In FDR's day," said Price, "three million Americans worked in the Civilian Conservation Corps."

"Today, with the need to clean up our environment and with five million Americans unemployed, this legislation will give the unemployed a chance to staff our hospitals and day care centers, refurbish our streets and cities, help maintain needed sewer and anti-pollution works, and brighten up our parks and playgrounds."

The Illinois lawmaker recalled that almost a year ago, President Nixon vetoed a $2.5 billion public service employment bill, calling these jobs "dead-end jobs in the public sector."

The President said: "I believe our economic policies are working. Inflation is receding. The economy is moving up. The Administration is taking measures to expand economic activities and job opportunities. Our main objective is to establish a stable growth while actively reducing unemployment."

"We can see," Price asserted, "how wrong the President's judgment was. The unemployment rate today is identical to the unemployment rate when Mr. Nixon vetoed the earlier bill last year. Just as he finally confessed error and did something about inflation, I hope he will also confess error and do something about unemployment before the crisis worsens."

The Democratic legislator estimated the annual cost of his bill at $3.4 billion.

"The money can readily be found by cutting down on many of the ineffective provisions of the proposed $10 billion in tax reductions, as well as by saving on unnecessary and unproductive programs," Price said.

"This bill, of course, cannot solve all our problems. It creates only 500,000 jobs, eliminating 10% of our unemployment. But no one can deny that this will be a big help to those low-income or no-income persons who qualify for the jobs. Certainly this is a step in the right direction.

Theft from Auto

Dan James, 3813 Village Lane, reported this week that someone had stolen a stereo, tape player, tape box, 12 tapes and a watch from his auto. The items were valued at about $178. Entry was gained by prying the left vent window.

Steel Imports Topped Ceiling During October

By the end of October, U.S. imports of steel had already shared above the full year target ceiling set under a foreign producer voluntary agreement, and seemed ready to crowd the all-time import record.

According to American Iron and Steel Institute, 15,515,000 tons of foreign steel entered the United States during October. This is 80,000 tons more than the target limit of 15,435,000 tons for the full 12 months of 1971 set under the voluntary arrangement by which European Common Market and Japanese steel producers pledged to limit their exports to the U.S. market.

This year's steel imports are already the second highest on record. And, said AISI, if they were to continue at their October rate for the last two months of the year they would top 1968's all-time import record of 17,860,000 tons. Like 1971, that year also saw heavy consumer steel stockpiling as a hedge against a possible strike which never occurred.

Steel imports this October were 1,427,000 tons. Sheet and strip products again accounted for nearly half the month's total—with 699,000 tons. Pipe and tubing imports for the month were 116,000 tons, while 119,000 tons of foreign pig iron entered the country in October.

Specialty steel imports also continued heavy. October's stainless imports of 15,000 tons pushed their 10-month total to almost 163,000 tons. This is just 14,000 tons less than 1970's full year total of 177,000 tons. Alloy steel imports in October, 1971, of 35,000 tons pushed their 10-month total to 338,000 tons—or just 11,000 tons short of 1970's 12 month total.

VISITS SIU-SW. Brig. Gen. Benjamin B. Cassidy Jr., commandant of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps, visited Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. He conferred with Dr. John S. The SIU-SW program will be expanded to four years next fall, with freshmen and seniors eligible to enroll.

Ogilvie to Dedicate SIU Medical Building Saturday

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie will turn the first spadeful of earth at site dedication and groundbreaking ceremonies for Southern Illinois University's new School of Medicine building in Springfield Saturday.

Ogilvie is scheduled to deliver a major policy address on the state's health care needs following the 10:30 a.m. groundbreaking. His speech will be in the cafeteria of Springfield Memorial Hospital, located across Rutledge St. from the new building site.

The $1,800,209 first-stage construction project will provide temporary classrooms, laboratories and administrative offices for SIU's fledgling medical school, which first formally proposed by the Board of Higher Education in 1968. The first class of clinical students is expected on the Springfield campus in the summer of 1973.

A $7,710,000 second stage being requested in next year's budget will round out the four-story complex. In it will be permanent lecture and laboratory spaces, faculty offices and supporting service facilities.

First Year at SIU
Springfield's two major hospitals, Memorial and St. John's, will be the functional centers of operation for the new school. They are about a mile apart. Students will take their first year of pre-clinical work on the campus of SIU at Carbondale.

Contractor R. B. Evans Co. Springfield already has started work on the project but a patch of the site has been left undisturbed for the ceremonial groundbreaking.

Among other officials expected to attend will be administrators of the two hospitals, Robert G. Lauer, president of SIU at Carbondale, and Richard H. Moy, dean of the School of Medicine.

Refreshments for guests and the public will be served at the Memorial Hospital cafeteria. Lauer will talk briefly before the governor's address.

Springfield - Jacksonville May Be First Freeway Link

By RAY SERATTI
Copley News Service

Springfield-Plans are continuing for the building of a network of freeways to link virtually every section of the state. The freeway system will be constructed through the sale of some $600 million in bonds which was approved earlier this year by the General Assembly and upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court. Some $150 million in bonds have been sold for the initial construction work.

To date neither Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie nor highway officials have said which segments of the supplemental freeway system will be constructed first. There have been some reports that the first funds will be used for the construction of the proposed freeway between Springfield and Jacksonville. This freeway corridor eventually will go on to the Mississippi River.

Some proposed corridor hearings have been held throughout the state for the proposed freeways. A few of the corridors have been temporarily selected. In all some 2,000 miles of freeway eventually will be built through the state.

Presently many communities are trying to get the proposed freeways to run through their respective areas. They maintain the freeways are needed to replace the outmoded present highways in their respective areas. Priorities will probably be established.

Stereo Tapes Stolen

Tape cartridges and case valued at $70 were stolen from the car of Steve McElroy, 3047 Sinclair St., while it was parked at the Nameki Village shopping center, he reported this week.

Westbound Cars Collide

The westbound cars of George Filcoff Jr., Rural Route One, and Jeffrey Spector, St. Louis, collided at 21st Street and Madison Avenue at 5:45 p.m. Monday.

While the proposed program was awaiting General Assembly approval and court approval, Ogilvie along with Public Works Director William F. Cellini wide-

Some of the work was done on highways in the areas in which the freeways are being planned. This was done in an effort to give residents at least a major highway with some upgraded standards.

Many were widened, resurfaced and bridges were repaired and widened. By widening, many highways were made 22 feet wide.

New Winter Jackets For State Troopers

(Copy News Service)
SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois State Police force is going through its final phase of reorganization.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

rection of Supt. James T. McGuire, and the final phase affects State Police Districts 2, 5, 7, 8 and 13. Some promotions for personnel will be included in the reorganization.

Also this winter, the state troopers—those in the field—will be getting a new type of winter jacket. Sgt. Robert H. Klemm, McGuire's aide, says the new jackets are along the order of the old Army Eisenhower jackets, except they are longer. He said it was found that troopers in the field were restricted in movement when wearing the present coat because of a belt which was part of the coat.

The new jacket will be issued to those holding the rank of sergeant and below. Presently, a recruitment drive is underway to get 50 recruits for a new class at the State Police Academy. This class would get underway in mid-1972. A recruit class currently is in progress at the academy. Authorized strength for the state police is 1,600 men and an additional 127 men for the toll-way system. However, the toll-way system has been authorized an additional 30 men because of extension of the East-West Toll-way from Aurora.

State police officials also want to see if "coopers" would be useful in getting accident victims to newly-designated trauma centers being established at various hospitals.

If You Drink, Don't Drive, Chief Warns

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer had a word today for holiday party goers. The word, he said, is "time," and the Chief explained it this way:

"Drivers who drink heavily and then depend upon hot coffee or cold showers to sober them up before sliding behind the wheel of a car are only kidding themselves," Chief Veizer said. "All you have is a soaking-wet drunk, or one that's full of coffee. They're still potential menaces to themselves, their passengers and others on the road!"

The chief pointed out that even though his department puts maximum available manpower on the road at critical periods, information provided by the International Association of Chiefs of Police, the National Safety Council, and others indicates that alcohol continues to be a factor in over half of all traffic deaths.

County Veizer cited good advice from the National Safety Council: (1) know and understand what alcohol does to the body; (2) realize your own drinking limitations; (3) if you insist on drinking to excess, let someone else drive.

"Alcohol affects different people in different ways," says Chief Veizer. "Some can look and act fairly normal, yet will be severely impaired in their driving abilities. Add winter weather and adverse driving conditions, and the accident potential for these drinkers rockets up far out of reason." Many drivers have the mistaken belief that alcohol acts as a stimulant to the body.

"Not so," states Chief Veizer. "Alcohol has been proven to be a depressant. It slows reflexes, impairs vision, lessens coordination, and, worst of all, alcohol increases willingness to take risks. This 'don't care' attitude induced by alcohol is one important factor leading to traffic crashes." The chief emphasized that the law established by law in this state for driving under the influence is .010. That's more than enough to make anyone an unsafe driver.

"Folklore remedies for sobering up won't help," Chief Veizer concluded. "Time is the only answer — time for your body to dispose of the alcohol. And after several drinks, that time may be several hours."

Portell Elected President Of Illinois Clerks' Assn.

The Illinois Court Clerks' Association, composed of circuit, appellate, and supreme court clerks in Illinois, has elected Willard W. Portell of Madison County as president of the association.

Prior to this time he held offices as treasurer, secretary, first and second vice-president, has been chairman of the Legislative Committee and has been instrumental in implementing many laws in the State of Illinois concerning the circuit clerk's office since 1964 when the Judicial reform was adopted.

He also has served on committees with the Supreme Court Administrator, Illinois Bar Association, and the Illinois Circuit Clerk's Association, and joint committees to implement procedures and laws concerning the offices.

Portell is the first circuit clerk from Madison County to be elected to such a post. It is his intention that with the new constitution there will be quite a bit of work this year in the Legislative field in both implementing laws and procedures and also unifying the procedures in all clerk's offices in the state of Illinois.

The counties will be divided into problem committees according to population. Small counties do not have the same problems as large counties and there will be three separations of counties. Various meetings will be held to solve the problems of the three different categories.

"I am very honored to have the confidence placed in me by the circuit, appellate and supreme court clerks and I will be as active as I possibly can towards uniformity in implementing new procedures and streamlining the circuit clerk's offices throughout the state of Illinois," Portell said.

Sites of Four More Prisons To Be Chosen

By JOAN MURARO
Copy News Service
SPRINGFIELD — Site selection for four small community-based correctional centers in Illinois is continuing, but a final decision probably will not be announced until the January legislative session acts on means of financing them.

The four are part of a $30 million construction package of six facilities announced by Corrections Department Director Peter R. Bensinger earlier this fall.

Of the six, funds have been appropriated for two—an $8 million juvenile reception and diagnostic center, for which a site has already been obtained in Chicago, and a $6 million Adult Division new classification center to be built on the grounds of the Stateville penitentiary at Joliet.

A site of 19 acres was purchased at 33rd and Kedzie Streets in Chicago for $400,000, for the juvenile diagnostic center, and $377,000 has been approved for planning for that center, with the Pace Co. selected as associate architects for planning.

An associate architect or engineer has not yet been selected for the Joliet adult facility. Arthur H. Huffman, state criminologist, said funding arrangements have already been made, with $3 million to come through the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission and the other $3 million through the Illinois Building Authority.

The exact site for that facility has not yet been announced. Huffman said, "It is not at all unlikely to be in some proximity" to the Stateville branch at Joliet, in order to reduce costs by tying in with the existing heating plant and other utilities already there.

The Joliet construction will replace an 80-year-old structure now in use, built as the first women's prison in Illinois and used until the women's prison at Dwight was opened.

Remains to provide funds for the building four facilities were at the second reading stage when the October-November legislative session recessed.

As announced by Bensinger, each of the four will have an inmate capacity of only 200 to 500, will be located in or near major metropolitan areas and will provide minimum and medium security treatment facilities.

Presently, all prison facilities in Illinois are maximum security except for the prison at Vienna, opened recently and still not operating at its full capacity.

33 on Death Row in State, None Executed in 10 Years

Copley News Service

Springfield — Though capital punishment remains on the law books in Illinois, nearly 10 years have elapsed since the last state execution.

Meanwhile, 33 men remain in one of the state's two Death Rows, biding time while they wait for the switch that will probably never be thrown.

William Kauffman of the Parole and Pardon Board says there are 23 condemned men waiting at the Stateville branch of the Illinois penitentiary at Joliet, and another 10 at the Menard prison near Chester.

There is an electric chair at each prison, but no one has actually been electrocuted in any Illinois prison since 1949.

The more recent executions in the state have taken place in Cook County, where the state's first electric chair was located in the Cook County jail, until overhauls last year in the corrections setup in that county.

The men awaiting execution have all been convicted of murder, though treason, kidnapping and forcible rape also are all capital crimes in Illinois.

The condemned have been waiting as little as a year or as long as 42 years for their date with the wire.

chair, which has been the official form of execution in Illinois since hanging was abandoned many years ago.

Many of the men awaiting execution, Kauffman said, have had several execution dates set, but these have always been set aside for various reasons without the sentence being carried out.

Of the 10 condemned at Menard, seven are in the regular Death Row and three are in the prison's psychiatric division.

The oldest conviction in terms of sentencing was first sentenced to die in 1929, Kauffman said, but was later taken back to court and found to be criminally insane, under Illinois law at that time. It was ruled that whenever he is found to be recovered, an execution date will be set.

That day is never likely to come, Kauffman said, since the prisoner is senile, has lost one leg while waiting execution and is now reported to be totally out of touch with reality and unlikely to recover.

Kauffman's records show the most recently imposed death sentence was handed down in 1970, with no one sentenced to death in Illinois during 1971.

She was born in Union County, Ill., and had lived in this area 50 years. Mrs. Hagler was a member of the Second Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband, Laurence Hagler; two sons, Laurence Albert Hagler Jr. of St. Louis, and John David Hagler of Collinsville; three daughters, Mrs. Martha Stogdill of Granite City, Mrs. Ruth Athlee Shelton of Bay Park, Mich., and Mrs. Karen Lewis of Sunflower, Kan.; one brother, Melvin Stroud of Granite City; three sisters, Mrs. Ruby Griffith of Peoria, Ill., Mrs. Marie Cottrell of Edwardsville, and Miss Minnie Stroud of Granite City.

Miss Cavanaugh is charged with illegal transportation of liquor and Miss French is charged with illegal possession of liquor. They were freed under $50 bond each.

Regional Report--Alton Dam Construction to Begin in 1973

(Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corporation)

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council was advised by its two major committees to certify that a proposed second major St. Louis area airport in Illinois would fit into regional plans.

The executive advisory committee voted 11 to 6 to recommend that the council back a request by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority for $8.4 million in federal funds to begin acquiring land in the Columbia - Waterloo area. Later, the council's regional forum, which advises on citizen opinion, voted 9 to 2 to make a similar recommendation.

The Corps of Engineers has announced that construction of the proposed new $272 million Alton Lock and Dam No. 26, two miles below the present structure, will begin in 1973, nearly a year sooner than originally planned. Under the new updated schedule, a ceremonial would be the first construction stage of the new facility.

The site for a new hospital was announced. Forty-seven acres of farm land at the south-easter corner of the intersection of Illinois 159 and 162 have been selected for the proposed $6.5 million central Madison County hospital. Area residents, attending a dinner to open the fund drive, held at the University Center of St. Louis, were told that more than $400,000 has been pledged in the public campaign to raise $1 million for the project.

The Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation, at its December board of directors meeting, strongly endorsed the activities of Southwestern Illinois Health Facilities, Inc., which will operate the proposed hospital.

Sites in Missouri and Illinois are being considered for a bulk mail center to be constructed in the St. Louis metropolitan area. The announcement by the U. S. Postal Service restored East St. Louis as a potential site for a new postal building for the first time since the Postal Service in September cancelled long-standing plans to build an $8 million sectional post office in East St. Louis.

Cleaner air for the bi-state metropolitan area will be the result of an agreement reached between the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and Granite City Steel Co. The agreement, settlement of an EPA complaint, calls for a $4 million air pollution control program developed by the company and the establishment of a $150,000 University of Illinois environmental studies scholarship fund. The Illinois Pollution Control Board accepted the agreement for study.

The Peerless Enamel Products Co., Belleville, has announced plans to expand its operations in January following acquisition of the old Oakland Foundry Building. The foundry property will be used by Peerless for its assembly operations in its manufacture of gas and electric ranges.

The Mississippi River Festival again was in the news. The federal National Endowment for the Arts released $40,000 to the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra to help defray administrative costs for the festival.

River Festival officials announced they will apply for funds from the Illinois Arts Council before March 14, when the council will meet to consider applications for grants.

When the Illinois Board of Higher Education accepted its staff recommendations for capital spending, reduced the 1973-74 budget request by 55.5%. President John S. Rendleman said the cuts will force the university to drop all plans for a physical education building and a fine arts classroom building.

In general area news, the Mississippi Valley Horseradish Association of Collinsville is one of 40 Illinois-based food processors exhibiting their products at the first Illinois Food Exposition in Chicago. Howard Mueller has been elected president of the St. Clair County Farm Bureau board of directors. After a three-week strike, drivers for the Regal Cab Co. in East St. Louis returned to work.

An additional 20 homes in Rosewood Heights were annexed by the East Alton village board. And James E. Holderred has been named director of plant location for the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corp.

Nameoki Board to Select Fire Trustees

Eight persons have filed applications for three vacancies on the board of trustees of the Long Lake Fire Department, it was announced by Louis Whitwell, supervisor of Nameoki Township, during a regular town board meeting Monday night.

The deadline for filing was Monday. Those who applied are the Rev. Gus Falter Jr., 3715 Ruth Drive; Harold C. Miller, 2307 Paul Ave.; James T. Dudley, 4066 Breckenridge Lane; John Karlechik, 4118 Lake Drive; Gene L. Hoelter, 3720 Ruth Drive; Earl E. Arnold, 3383 B St.; Matthew M. Roper, 3305 Village Lane; and Wilbert Engleke, Box 600, Rural Route One.

Whitwell said the board of auditors will act as a selection committee, study the applications and make the appointments at the next town meeting Dec. 27.

A letter from Jack R. Clifford, county building and zoning administrator, informed the board that a house at 2222 Miracle Ave., cannot be condemned and suggested the owner of the property be notified to board up the house.

May Fill in Basement

A court order giving the township authority to fill in a basement excavation in the Roney subdivision and to bill Morris Roney, the developer, for the cost was received.

William Nichols, a landowner in the Horseshoe Lake area, reported that portions of Bend Road are endangered by the high level of the lake. He said some action to lower the level of the lake should be taken before road damage to the township road is caused. He said the bank has been eroding until the water is at the edge of the road. High winds would cause the water to cut into the road itself.

Highway Commissioner Albert Bell suggested that Granite City Steel Co. be asked to donate slag to put alongside the road to slow down the erosion process. Bell said the township has the equipment and men to do the job if they can get the material.

Commissioner Bell also suggested that the board consider legal action against the S. M. Wilson Construction Co. According to Bell, the company, when building a catch basin for a new housing development in the State Park area near the racing stables, created a hazard on Black Lane. Bell said he has unsuccessfully requested the company to correct the situation.

Whitwell informed the board that Madison County Sheriff John Maers is calling in all special deputy commissions for evaluation and review. He stated some of the commissions were issued several years ago. Whitwell noted Maers plans to reissue the commissions where there is a need, and to those qualified to receive them. Whitwell asked the board for permission to check with the bonding company for a possible refund on deputy bonds paid for by the township, until it is learned who will be issued new commissions.

Whitwell also told the board that township health officials will check into reports that a health hazard exists at the Cargill elevator at Ponton Beach where outside storage of corn is attracting rats.

State Steps Up Grants To Offset Tax Losses

By JOAN MURARO

Copley News Service. SPRINGFIELD — More than $5.5 million has been distributed to date this year among special tax districts throughout Illinois to offset losses to those districts because of personal property tax exemptions. Paul Sengpiel, local government management officer in the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs, said he hopes to have the remaining amount of nearly $4 million, from an initial appropriation of $8 million, distributed by the end of the current year.

About 75% of the special districts' claims have been processed so far, he said. Only districts in which the equalized, assessed, valuation dropped between 1969 and 1970 were eligible to receive the special compensation, exclusive of school districts, cities and counties, which had been covered by the initial state revenue sharing proposal.

4,200 Special Districts
There are approximately 4,200 special taxing districts in the state, Sengpiel said, though many of these, particularly in Cook, Lake, DuPage and Will counties showed increases rather than declines in assessed valuations, and so received no part of the $8 million. In 17 counties with commissions, quadrennial assessments were made in 1970 and in all but three or four, Sengpiel said, valuations increased because of the elapsed time since the last assessment.

A second appropriation of $8 million has been made by the legislature to continue the program for another year. Sengpiel said, but those funds probably will not be distributed before June 30 as required by law, since distribution takes about five months and cannot start until around May 1, when records from individual counties first become available. If distribution is not completed by June 30, Sengpiel said the legislature would then have to re-appropriate the funds.

So far, approximately $370,000 of the $8 million first appropriation has been distributed, and the final amount is now going out, Sengpiel said.

Because the Homestead Exemption was found unconstitutional, he added, every eligible district in the state received grants equal to 100% of its tax exemption losses. If the Homestead Exemption had been upheld, however, he said, $8 million would not have been enough and the funds would have had to be apportioned among qualifying districts.

Special taxing districts eligible for grants include townships and airport authorities, as well as junior college, road, sanitary, park, fire protection, library, hospital, forest preserve, mosquito abatement, cemetery, tuberculosis sanitarium, public health, river conservancy, street lighting, water service, water authorities, watershed and surface water protection districts.

Muzzle Law Crackdown Due To Rise in Dogbite Cases

The dog muzzle requirement is to be strictly enforced in Granite City, Humane Officer Edward Johnnie has reported. "Since our city is being overrun with stray animals and we have such an increase in dog bites and catbites among our children — some of whom are being subjected to rabies shots — our laws will be enforced to the fullest extent," he said. "The law specifies that 'no owner or keeper of any such animal shall permit such animal to run at large at any time, whether licensed or unlicensed, unless such animal shall be muzzled with a device or sufficient strength to prevent its biting any person.'"

The humane officer will impound all such animals and hold them for a period of 48 hours, at which time they will be disposed of, he said. "Anyone missing their pet should contact the humane officer at the Animal Shelter located on Route Three, adjacent to the A. O. Smith plant, before the 48-hour period has expired. The telephone number is 876-8903."

Business hours for the Granite City Animal Shelter are: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to noon and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Johnnie added, "It is unlawful to operate a small animal store anywhere in the city without first securing a license; the fee for such a license is $25."

"The term 'small animal store' includes any establishment for the raising, training, boarding or selling of dogs, cats, birds, mice, rats or other small animals for hire or profit, or where more than three dogs or cats are harbored or kept."

"Violators of these provisions will be subject to a fine."

BRONZE STAR MEDALIST. Sergeant Donald D. Patrick, right, receives citation and Bronze Star Medal from Lieutenant Colonel Raymond E. Moore, director of transportation, 48th Transportation Group, at Can Tho, Vietnam. The medal winner is a son of Nameoki Tax Collector and Mrs. Edgar A. Patrick, 3519 Pontoon Road.

Donald Patrick Earns Bronze Star in Vietnam

A Granite City soldier serving as a U. S. Customs Agent in Vietnam has received the Bronze Star Medal for "outstandingly meritorious service in connection with military operations."

Army Sergeant Donald D. Patrick was presented the medal and citation at Can Tho, Vietnam, by Lieutenant Colonel Raymond E. Moore, who heads the transportation division of the 48th Transportation Group. Col. Moore also nominated the serviceman for the award.

Sgt. Patrick, 24, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. (Sylvia) Patrick, 3519 Pontoon Road. Mr. Patrick is tax collector for Nameoki Township and a candidate in the Feb. 8 Democratic primary election for the Madison County Board.

Citation States

The citation accompanying the medal reads in part: "Sergeant Donald D. Patrick... who distinguished himself by outstandingly meritorious service in connection with military operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam."

"During the period January 1970 to May 1971 he consistently manifested exemplary professionalism and initiative in obtaining outstanding results. His rapid assessment and solution of numerous problems inherent in a combat environment greatly enhanced the Allied effectiveness against a determined and aggressive enemy."

"Despite many adversities, he invariably performed his duties in a resolute and efficient manner. Energetically applying his sound judgment and extensive knowledge, he has contributed materially to the successful accomplishment of the United States Mission in the Republic of Vietnam."

"His loyalty, diligence and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Army."

GCHS Graduate

Sgt. Patrick was graduated in 1965 from Granite City High School and attended Belleville Area Community College. Prior to entering the U. S. Army on July 25, 1968, he was employed as a shipping foreman at American Bakeries Co., St. Louis. The soldier was trained at Fort Bragg, N. C. and Fort Lee, Va. At the latter facility he was named a distinguished honor graduate in the Quartermaster Class of November 1969.

He was assigned to Vietnam in January 1970 and currently is serving as U. S. Customs Agent NCOIC (Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge) of Military Region 4, comprising the Mekong Delta area of Vietnam.

Presently stationed with the 48th Transportation Group, located in Can Tho, the local serviceman is working with the 8th Military Police Customs Group headquartered at Saigon.

In accepting the award from Col. Moore, the recipient stated "I am very proud and pleased to accept this award which symbolizes honor and duty to my country. I am now looking forward most anxiously to returning home to contribute my energies to the community in which I live."

Sgt. Patrick expects to return home in mid-March and plans to complete his education at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus, majoring in criminal science.

In a letter home, the soldier indicated he wants to work in "community projects with local civic organizations in Pontoon Beach and Nameoki Township."

Nowlan Seeks Development of Small Communities

(Copley News Service)

SPRINGFIELD — In James Nowlan, Gov. Richard Ogilvie figures he has chosen a lieutenant governor running mate who will appeal particularly to young voters and voters in rural Illinois.

The contrast between the two ticket mates is vivid: Ogilvie is 48 and from the metropolis, Cook County, population six million; Nowlan, 30, is from Toulon, population 1,200, located in Illinois.

The contrast between the two ticket mates is vivid: Ogilvie is 48 and from the metropolis, Cook County, population six million; Nowlan, 30, is from Toulon, population 1,200, located in Illinois.

StarK County where a whopping 7,500 souls live.

"I believe my relative youth, combined with experience, candor and a small-town background, should help the Republican ticket," comments Nowlan, a two term state representative.

A bookish intellectual who writes his words carefully, he is working on a doctorate degree in political science. He had hoped to finish it this month but now says he will not complete his dissertation on American policy development before next spring.

Ironically, he wrote his master's thesis in 1965 on the "leaderless" Illinois Republican party of 1960-64 when the GOP had no governor and no strong central party leadership.

Now, of course, Nowlan is the running mate of the strongest Republican leader since William Straton, perhaps one would have to go back even farther than Straton to find a stronger leader than Ogilvie.

He doesn't think my age is the only thing that will appeal to the younger voters," says Nowlan, who has spent much time speaking to college age groups.

"I think young people also want a public official—no matter what his age—who speaks with candor and forthrightness, and I'd like to believe that's what I've always done in politics."

Asked what he plans to talk about most in the campaign ahead, Nowlan replies:

"Rural development. The state must work with local governments and civic groups to revitalize our smaller communities, through industrial development and through long-range efforts to increase population."

"We must see what can be done to maintain basic services on the main streets, and to provide adequate schools so people will find smaller communities enjoyable and progressive places in which to live and rear their families."

He observes that in 1880, told the board, "I know the village could save at least $100 per month under Caton's bid and that is a conservative estimate."

Rochester moved that Caton be contacted by letter requesting information as to his intentions on installing a pump in the village.

"If he does not reply, we will take further action at the next meeting," the trustee said.

Statoiff explained Caton was to have installed a pump in the village, but has failed to do so. As a result village vehicles have been purchasing gasoline under a previous contract with Bennett.

Statoiff said that Caton operates a gasoline pump at his car wash at East 23rd Street and Nameoki Road in Granite City, but that it was not left the savings justified the driving into Granite City.

Bennett was present and requested the village either honor its contract with Caton or call new bids. "I have been getting a lot of unjustified bad publicity from this and I would like to see it stop," Bennett said.

Dr. Dean Rochester, trustee, 12-Week Real Estate Transactions Course

A 12-week course in the principles of real estate transactions will be offered by the Technical and Adult Education Division of SIU-SW starting Monday, Jan. 3.

Classes will meet weekly from 7:45 to 9:45 p.m. Mondays in Room H40 of the Peck Building on the SIU-SW campus.

Instructor for the course is Paul J. Skjerseth, a professor of business administration at St. Louis University and formerly an SIU-SW faculty member.

The course will cover property rights, ownership of real property, financing real estate, principles of property evaluation, ethics, brokers' and salesmen's laws and real estate mathematics. It also will lay the groundwork for enrolling for a broker's license.

Tuition is $4.40 and enrollment will be limited to 40. Prospective students may register by calling 618.692-3560, or by attending the first meeting of the class on Jan. 3.

StarK County has a population of 12,000 compared to only 7,500 in 1970.

"Something has to be done, and I think there are things we can do," he says.

He envisions spreading the state's population more uniformly rather than bunched up in a few areas while most other regions remain sparsely settled.

Nowlan also plans to push for protection of the environment—the popular antipollution and pro-conservation crusades.

He received statewide attention earlier this year when he guided through the General Assembly a tough bill to regulate strip mining in the state. It's one of the toughest strip mining measures in the country.

After the law was enacted, Nowlan set up a citizens' watchdog committee to see that the law is enforced and if necessary, amended in the future to make it stronger.

Under the new Constitution, the lieutenant governor loses his role as presiding officer of the Illinois Senate. He will have no legislative chores but will, instead, be an administrative subordinate of the governor.

"I think now that it is directly tied to the governorship it can be made a strong staff office," he relates.

"The governor is unbelievably burdened with tasks, and a lieutenant governor should be able to help ease the load."

He could serve as liaison with various line agencies under the governor, take over some of the countless ceremonial duties that a governor is called upon to perform, and provide greater accessibility to an administration by being responsible to the citizen."

IS OUR HOUSE THE BEST VALUE IN TOWN TODAY???

We Think So—and Heres' Why... In our opinion the Basement House, in the Granite City area, will increase in value, over the value of a non-basement or slab house with a garage, to the extent that its increased value should, within ten years, be worth the price of a new car to you.

The basement home, has the advantage of easy and inexpensive expansion for additional bedroom or family room, while you are making money living in it.

In other words... the basement house has better, quicker, and higher re-sale value.

DICK INVITES ALL HIS FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS TO COME IN AND SEE HIM

After we make it perfect, we keep it perfect.

The man you see working on the VW is a VW trained mechanic.

Before he can touch your VW, he has to take it apart and put back together our VW's parts. The man standing over the mechanic is, naturally enough, his boss.

Besides standing over him it takes time for him to find out what's wrong with a VW when it first comes in to a VW dealer. And he makes sure there's nothing wrong when it leaves.

So when your VW needs fixing, take it where there's a mechanic who makes it perfect.

And another to say it is.

SECTION 1. DEFINED. The term "dangerous buildings" as used in this article is hereby defined to mean and include:

Course at 'Y' on Communication With the Deaf

A course to be offered locally spotlights the education of the hearing impaired today—to use all possible avenues or means of communication—to meet the individual needs of the students.

The total communication approach, as it is called, includes speech, sign language, written messages on overhead projectors and chalkboards, finger spelling, the language of signs and gestures.

The ideal teacher of the hearing impaired is really a communication specialist, since the class is composed of many individuals with different abilities, a spokesman comments.

The role of parents of hearing impaired children is considered even more important today. Parents are encouraged to communicate more and more effectively with their hearing-impaired individuals are included in the family planning and the hearing is also a learning environment for the handicapped child.

In an effort to help parents of hearing-impaired children, staff members at the Illinois School for the Deaf in Jacksonville have been instrumental in setting up many communication classes for parents and teachers of the hearing-impaired in the state.

These classes are being held at Mr. Leon Hudson, 74 Shirwin Drive, to instruct a class for Granite City area persons. The class will offer a course in finger spelling (letters) and in language of signs (words) at the YMCA beginning Jan. 18.

Leon Hudson, a graduate of the Illinois School for the Deaf, is a watch repairman with Hudson Jewellers and his hearing wife, Mary Lou, is an educator with the Granite City school system.

The evening course will cost $20 per person and will be composed of 15 sessions of two hours each. Persons interested in enrolling should contact Mrs. Hudson. Her phone number is 931-3257.

2 Plead Innocent to Theft of Motorcycle

Burt Tomlinson, 17, of 3712 Pontoon Road, and Allan Presley, 18, of 2725 Buxton Ave., were released on $3,000 bonds at 4:50 p.m. Tuesday after pleading innocent to charges of stealing a motorcycle.

The two young men were arrested this week in Pontoon Beach, allegedly while riding a motorcycle which had been stolen from Dorothy C. Wheeler, 4025 Gaslight Walk. Officers said the ignition of the motorcycle had been wired to start it without a key.

Pontoon Beach police stopped the motorcycle when an officer noted the license plate was upside down. Tomlinson and Presley are scheduled to appear for a preliminary hearing at 3 p.m. Monday.

Commissions Ended

Sheriff John Maeder has ended all special deputy commissions as of Jan. 1, pending a re-study of the need for them.

Daley, Hartigan Closely Linked

By JERRY OWENS
Copley News Service

Springfield — Neil Hartigan, handsome, 33-year-old Chicago attorney, is widely recognized as being Mayor Richard Daley's "man" on the Democratic state ticket.

The youngest person on the six-man slate ticket, Hartigan was slated to be Governor Candidate Paul Simon's lieutenant governor running mate.

Hartigan, an Irish Catholic like his mentor, Daley, spent four and a half years as the mayor's administrative assistant. For the past three and a half years, he has been Daley's Park District counsel.

The big redhead also is powerful Democratic ward committeeman in the 49th Ward. In Chicago, a ward committeeman—there are 30—is comparable to being a county chairman downstate.

With that job goes a lot of political muscle—involvement in patronage, slatemaking and other political issues and tasks.

Because he speaks Spanish, Hartigan has taken more than a passing interest in the Spanish-speaking people of Chicago. He has done much to improve the quality of life for Latinos living in Chicago. He has won awards for outstanding government service from the Jaycees, the Irish Social Center and the Israel Bonds group.

Hartigan has a law degree from Loyola University and is a native of the city by the lake. He and his wife, Margaret, have four children.

Meanwhile, Simon obviously is not content to rest on his laurels. After a long, grueling campaign for the endorsement, one would think the lieutenant governor might have taken it easy.

Not Simon. Shortly after the slate was announced in Chicago, he went on a handshaking tour on busy State Street. Then he headed for a nearby factory where he shook some more hands during shift change.

Cong. Price Backs Bill to Disclose Lobby Activities

Chairman Melvin Price, D-East St. Louis, of the House Committee on Standards of Official Conduct has formally recommended enactment of a new law to treat lobbying activities.

The proposed statute, primarily a disclosure measure for the benefit of the Congress and the public, is embodied in a bill (H.R. 1459) which was introduced Oct. 27 by Cong. Price with the co-sponsorship of Representatives Jackson E. Betts of Ohio, ranking Republican member of the committee; F. Edward Hebert, D-La.; Chet Holifield, D-Calif.; Lawrence G. Williams, R-Pa., and Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich.

"This bill is the result of many months of intensive study following two series of public hearings at which the committee listened to the views of all who wanted to be heard," Price said in filing the committee's report on the bill.

"A majority of the committee believes it is a reasonable measure that will accomplish the desired results—namely, the public disclosure of expenditures and other activities of paid lobbyists."

"The bill recognizes that lobbying is a legitimate and useful activity in connection with the legislative processes and that the right to engage in such activity is guaranteed by the First Amendment to the Constitution. The bill, therefore, places no restraints on the legitimate exercise of such activity."

It simply would provide Congress and the public with information about the expenditures and activities of those who, for pay, support or oppose measures in Congress.

The bill would substitute a whole new body of laws for the 1946 Regulation of Lobbying Act which, Cong. Price noted, has been in force for many years.

The committee undertook its study of lobbying practices in response to a directive from the House to consider the need for remedying weaknesses in the present law.

One of the features of the bill is that it would cover, for the first time, the activities of so-called "grass roots" lobbyists—that is, those who for pay, or through the use of contributed funds, solicit others to support or oppose legislation.

The proposed law would be administered by the Comptroller General subject to oversight by House and Senate committees. It provides only civil sanctions for violations except for willful false statements or forgeries in the required disclosure reports.

A.O. Smith Earnings Up 70% During 1971

A. O. Smith Corporation's earnings in 1971 will be up some 70% over 1970 operating profits, L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, has announced.

According to Boston financial analysts, Smith predicted profits would be approximately $5 per share in 1971, compared with $2.95 last year. He said earnings would be about $12.25, 250,000 on sales of some $460,000,000. He pointed out that the earnings estimate does not take into account certain possible effects of Phase II.

In 1970, the company earned operating profits of $7,287,000, or $2.95 per share, on sales of $413,000,000. Results in 1970 were affected by the strike at General Motors. A. O. Smith's largest customer.

Smith said the $5 per share forecast could be reduced by as much as 40 to 50 cents per share by certain effects of Phase II. This could happen, he said, if the Pay Board allows the entire negotiated wage settlement and full retroactivity through the freeze period in the company's automotive division. Operations and negotiations have continued in the division's Milwaukee plant since the labor contract expired on July 31 on the basis of a retroactivity agreement.
